A BASEBALL BANQUET.

Fresh Honors for the Boys Who Went Around the Globe.

MANY PROMINENT MEN PRESENT

Speeches Made by Mark Twain, Chauncey M. Depew and Others—Delmonico's, in New York, the Scene

NEW YORK, April 8.—Baseball men in this city tendered a testimonial banquet to-night at Delmonico's to the baseball tourists who have just returned from a trip around the world. They had a warm welcome from the 250 guests assembled. The dining hall was profusely decorated.

A. G. Mills, ex president of the league, presided. When the guests were seated, J. H. Twitchell offered prayer.

The announcement that nine innings of dishes were ready for the feast was made by Mr. Mills with the familiar baseball word, "play."

Among the notables at the table were Mayor Chapin, of Brooklyn, Mayor Cleveland, of Jersey City, Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, Daniel Dougherty, Judge Henry F. Howland, Erastus Wyman and Consul G. W. Griffin of Melbourne, Australia.

When the cigars had been lighted Chairman Mills said that the gathering had been called for the purpose of doing honor to one branch of the manly sports, and that was baseball. He spoke of the successful work during the trip of the boys.

Letters of regret were read from the governors of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, as well as from Mayor Grant. The speakers of the evening were then called up.

A SPEECH BY MARK TWAIN

Among the speakers were Daniel Dougherty, Mayor Chapin of Brooklyn, Mayor Cleveland of Jersey City, A. G. Spaulding, of Chicago, A. C. Anson, of Chicago, John M. Ward, of New York, Mark Twain, Erastus Wyman and Chauncey M. Depew.

Mark Twain spoke of the peaceful, beautiful, indolent climate of the Sandwich Islands, where when a good man dies he but goes to sleep in one heaven to awake in another. "And these boys have played baseball there!" he exclaimed. "Baseball, which is the very symbol of the outward, visible expression of drive and push and rush and struggle of the raging, tearing, booming Nineteenth century. It is like interrupting a funeral with a circus.

"No alien land," he said, "in all the world has any deep, strong charm for me but that one, and these world wanderers who sit before us here have lately looked on these things and with the eyes of the flesh noted the unsatisfying vision of the spirit. I envy them that! Yes, and I would envy them somewhat of the glories they have achieved in their illustrious march about the mighty circumference of the earth, if it were fair, but no, it was an earned run. [Laughter.] They have carried the American name to the utmost part of the earth and covered it with glory every time. I drink long life to the boys who plowed a new equator around the globe, stealing bases on their bellies."

REMARKS BY DEPEW

Chauncey M. Depew, among other things, said: "I have been preparing a speech for the centennial, but it is of insignificant importance to the one which I shall deliver to-night. This is an event which eclipses everything. George Washington was a great and good man, but he never saw a baseball game. Madison wrote the constitution of the United States and Jefferson gave the Democracy its birth, but there is no indication upon their tombstones that they were ever roused by the enthusiasm of a home run. When I was in England last summer Mr. Gladstone said to me, 'What is the difference between newspapers in America and newspapers in this country?' 'The newspapers in England,' I replied, 'devote ten columns to reporting parliamentary proceedings and half a column to a cricket match, while in America the newspaper gives congressional proceedings half a column, and the baseball game ten columns.' Athletic sports are the mainstay of civilization. From Charles Dickens to Max O'Rell the American people have been the butt of ridicule, but our teams were sent abroad to show what Americans really are and that harmony of mind and body is not neglected by the American people."

ENGLISH NAVAL VESSELS

Report of the Admiralty Committee on the New Class of Cruisers

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Copies of the official report of the British admiralty committee on the recent English naval maneuvers have been received at the navy department. They have a very practical bearing on some of the vessels in the new United States navy. The Yorktown, Concord and Bennington are identical with the Archer class of the English navy. Six of those vessels took part in the maneuvers.

Concerning them the committee of admirals say: "It is reported unanimously that the armament is too heavy, that the weights on the forecastle are too great, and that the forecastle itself is not strong enough for the weight it has to bear.

"Of the Raccoon, the only vessel of the class which appears to have experienced anything like a heavy sea, it is reported that while going ten or eleven knots against a moderate swell a sea was taken on board which carried away everything movable on the forecastle, and broke into the fore hatch, which was battered down and carried away. The stanchions supporting the forecastle then bent the beams down three inches."

The committee is of the conclusion that much of this weight "in the eyes" of the ship should be reduced, and suggests that the "bowery" should be stowed further aft, the spare anchor removed to a position near the mainmast, and that the two six inch guns on the forecastle be replaced by five inch. It submits, also, that to substitute five inch for six inch guns throughout is in view of the cramped nature of these vessels worthy of the most serious consideration.

Admiral Sir Arthur Hood, in an observation on the report of the committee, says of the Archer class: "I think them too heavily weighted forward, and should have preferred the substitution of five inch guns for six inch on the pilot house."

These criticisms bear out the arguments advanced by some of our naval officials at the time the construction of our gunboats was undertaken.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

Arguments Began on Important Cases on Appeal From California.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Argument was begun in the supreme court of the United States to-day in the important California cases entitled the United States, plaintiff, vs. John D. Hall, George H. Perrin et al., and M. F. Reilly, respectively.

Hall, in 1855, made a contract with the United States surveyor general of California to survey public lands, and it is charged that he did not survey them at all, but platted the lands in his office without ever making the survey and returned the plats with fictitious field notes to the surveyor general, accompanied by an affidavit stating that he had done the work as required by contract. It is averred that Perrin and Reilly were also guilty of making false affidavits, and Perrin and the others are in addition charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

The defendants were all indicted for forgery. They took exceptions to the indictments, contending among other things that the offense alleged was not forgery, as it was not charged that they had falsely simulated other persons' writing, but that they had in their own handwriting made false statements of facts.

There was a division of opinion on this point between the judges of the circuit court of the United States for the district of California, and the matter comes here for determination by the supreme court. The cases are of considerable interest, and it is understood that a number of civil suits depend upon the determination of these criminal cases.

Solicitor-General Jenks opened the argument for the United States, and was followed by Hon. Frank Hurd in behalf of the defendants. Senator Stewart, of Nevada, is also one of the counsel for the defense.

THE NATIONAL TREASURER.

His Bond Has Been Approved by Secretary Windom.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The secretary of the treasury has approved the bond of Mr. Huston as treasurer of the United States, but he will not qualify and assume the duties of office until after Treasurer Hyatt is relieved of his duties at the New York sub-treasury, and probably not until after the count of the moneys and securities at that office has been completed. Assistant Secretary Roberts expects to take charge of the New York sub-treasury next Wednesday, and the count will probably be completed in about three weeks.

TO ACT AS ASSISTANT

The president has designated Assistant Secretary Bachellor to act as secretary of the treasury in the absence of Secretary Windom, and Assistant Secretary Tichenor to act as secretary in the absence of both Secretary Windom and Assistant Secretary Bachellor.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

Army and Navy

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The judge advocate general of the navy has passed upon the report of the court of inquiry that examined the charges of insubordination preferred against Ensign Schwenk, of the Thetis, by Lieutenant Commander Emory, while in Alaskan waters. It is understood that the offense was not found to be grave enough to warrant a courtmartial, and the matter will be dropped.

It is expected that Lieutenant Charles H. Clark, who has been stationed at the National Armory for several years, will soon be transferred to Fort Vancouver, W. T., to fill a vacancy at that post caused by the death of Captain W. S. Starring.

For the Cession of Indian Lands

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The members of the commission recently appointed to negotiate with the Cherokee and other Indian tribes for the cession of their lands in Indian territory will meet here next week to receive instructions from Secretary Noble. It is understood that the commission will first direct its attention to the Cherokee strip, which contains about 6,000,000 acres, and if no unexpected obstacles are encountered all necessary relinquishments will have been obtained by the 10th of June.

The Beasts Wintered Well

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The collection of wild animals at the Smithsonian institute, which forms the nucleus of the aggregation to be domiciled at the proposed National Zoological park, survived the winter in good condition.

Hon. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," has donated three American elk, which have been on exhibition at Institute park since last autumn, and has promised the authorities to further assist them to secure representatives of native wild species.

A Fine Office for a Blaine Man

WASHINGTON, April 8.—It is said here that Thomas H. Sherman, of Maine, will undoubtedly be made consul-general at Liverpool to succeed Charles T. Russell, of Connecticut. Sherman is Blaine's private secretary, and for a number of years has been a clerk in the state department. He is a good clerk and a popular young man, and is receiving many congratulations on his good fortune. The salary of the Liverpool place is $6000 per year, but the fees make it about $18,000.

The New Navy Yard Site

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The commissioners appointed to select a site for the navy yard on the Northwest coast of the Pacific, it is stated, have agreed upon a point on Puget Sound, between Seattle and Tacoma. The first draft of their report it is thought will be submitted to the secretary this week, but the full report, accompanied by maps, will not be given in until early in June.

Rusk Compelled to Reduce His Force

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Rusk finds the roll of employes in the agricultural department largely in excess of the resources for the current year. This means that there will be far more dismissals than appointments. In the seed division alone eighty employes have been dismissed, and the force will be still further reduced.

New National Bank

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The acting comptroller of the currency to-day authorized the Citizens' National bank of Spokane Falls, W. T., to begin business with a capital stock of $150,000.

Ecuador Will Be Represented

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The secretary of state is informed that Ecuador will be represented at the conference of American states to meet at Washington on the 4th of October.

THE SAMOAN COMMISSIONERS.

Ex Minister Kasson Speaks of the Main Question Confronting Them

NEW YORK, April 8.—Ex Minister Kasson, one of the Samoan commissioners, who with Commissioners Bates and Phelps is bound for Liverpool, in declining to express an opinion in regard to the stand taken by this government, said that he wished to enter the conference as free as possible from any utterances on the subject.

"We have considered," said he, "that the main question which confronts us will be the decision upon some mode of protecting the rights of foreigners at Samoa and without any interference with the native independence. It will be our general aim to secure good order in Samoa and maintain the principle of the equal rights of the powers, however interested there."

Kasson, when asked if he thought the destruction of the naval squadron at Samoa would affect the settlement, said he thought there would probably be more strenuous efforts made to reach such a settlement as to render unnecessary the maintenance of forces at the islands.

RETURNED TO NEW YORK.

A Western Traveler Talks About Railroad Building, Etc.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Wayne Griswold, who has just returned from an extended trip with reference to the prosecution of some enterprises in Washington territory, in going over the ground of his recent investigation, remarked at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-day:

"I find that railroad building has come to pretty much of a standstill all over the country, and even the more wealthy companies are economizing in their purchases of higher grades of English steel rails. All of the roads west of the Mississippi are poor, and their resources have been depleted by the very low rates that have prevailed all winter. I find that capitalists are working cautiously and have profited by the lesson of the recent collapse in Southern California."

LAYING THE CORNERSTONE

The Magnificent Masonic Hall in Process of Erection at Denver

DENVER, April 8.—Delegates from the various Masonic lodges in Colorado assembled here to-day for the purpose of participating in the ceremonies of the laying of the cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple on the corner of Sixteenth and Welton streets. The ceremonies were very impressive and were witnessed by several thousand people.

The building when completed will be eight stories high and the handsomest west of the Mississippi, costing $400,000.

Among the prominent visiting masons were Grand Commander James H. Peabody, of Massachusetts, and Past Grand Master H. P. H. Bromwell, of Illinois, and A. Verona, of New York.

A WOMAN SMUGGLER.

She Is Detected by One of Her Own Sex on the Adriatic

NEW YORK, April 8.—Mrs. Parks, inspectress of Surveyor Beattie's force, to-day seized from Mrs. Davis, a passenger on the steamer Adriatic from Liverpool, about three pounds of woolen yarn, which she had quilted into one of her petticoats, thirteen yards of dress goods sewed into another, and about twenty yards of flannels, which had been wrapped around her little daughter.

Mrs. Davis is a resident of Minnesota, and confessed to having smuggled goods in this manner before. The goods were sent to the seizure room.

Financially Embarrassed.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Colendar Insulating and Water Proofing Company has become financially embarrassed and suspended. The company was incorporated in 1883 with an authorized capital of $500,000. The last detailed statement of July, 1888, claimed assets of $227,[illegible] and liabilities of $[illegible].

A meeting of the creditors of the company was held to-day. Colendar made rather an indefinite statement for the company, showing unsecured liabilities of about $45,000 and assets of $70,000, and asked for an extension of about six months. A committee of creditors has been appointed to examine the books and make an investigation of the company's affairs and will report at a future meeting.

A Youthful Forger's Light Sentence.

RED BLUFF, April 8.—A young man named J. O'Donnell, alias A. M. Allen, who forged a telegraphic pass from Red Bluff to Portland last Saturday, was arrested yesterday at Smithson's, and pleaded guilty in the superior court to-day. Owing to his extreme youth, Judge Braynard made the sentence one month's imprisonment. O'Donnell had in his possession a number of letters of recommendation, signed by A. M. Allen and others, and dated at various places in Texas. He says they were all written for him in Reno, Nev., a few days ago.

The Latter Day Saints

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 8.—To-day's session of the world's conference of Latter Day Saints was given up to the hearing of the reports of the missionaries, showing the prosperity and growth of the church throughout the country. The reports of the church recorder show that there are over 25,000 members of the church, a gain of 148 in the past year. There were 116 removals and expulsions.

Death of a Well Known Railroad Man

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 8.—A. J. McDowell, of Boston, auditor of the Mexican Central Railway company, well known in New York, Boston and the West, was taken with a congestive chill last Wednesday morning, en route from the City of Mexico, and was compelled to stop over at Albuquerque. After lingering for five days he died this morning.

Major Armes Humbles Himself

PITTSBURG, April 8.—A Times special from Harrisburg says that Governor Beaver has received a letter from Major Armes. It contains the most abject apology and begs him to interfere to prevent a court martial. Armes says that rather than submit to the disgrace of being court martialed he will commit suicide.

A Town Burned

RALEIGH, N. C., April 8.—Almost the entire town of Smithfield, in Johnston county, burned yesterday. The only buildings which remain standing are the county court house and jail and a few dwellings. The total loss is estimated at $100,000. Much of the property was insured.

The Worst Storm Ever Experienced In the State.

THE FATES AGAINST OUR NAVY.

Six Men Adrift In a Disabled Bark—A Train Wrecked by a Washout—The Prairie Fires Quenched by Rain

NEW YORK, April 8.—The following dispatch was filed for the associated press Saturday and was received this morning:

HARRISONBURG, Va., April 6.—The worst snow storm of the season is raging. It is a perfect blizzard. The snow is from eight to ten inches deep and is still falling. It is blowing a hurricane. The wires are all down and we have been cut off from the outside world for the last [illegible] hours.

THE SEVEREST IN THIRTY YEARS

STAUNTON, Va., April 8.—The severest snow storm experienced Saturday known here for thirty years. Twenty inches of snow fell very rapidly. The streams are swelling.

AT [illegible]

FORTRESS MONROE, April 8.—The worst storm ever experienced here [illegible] lasting forty-eight hours. The telegraph wires went down [illegible] than ever recorded, doing great damage to houses on the [illegible] and [illegible]. A number of [illegible] submerged [illegible]. There were no damage in shipping on the canal.

THE FATES AGAINST OUR NAVY.

The Pensacola Goes Down in the Norfolk Drydock

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The following telegram was received at the navy department to-day from Commandant Brown of the Norfolk navy yard: "A heavy gale set in about midnight Saturday. The water rose rapidly and was higher than ever known, being about a foot above the coping of the drydock. The Pensacola was lifted from the blocks and filled with water through the old and new Kingston valve openings and settled diagonally across the blocks. The water is over the gun deck comings. A diver reports that there was no injury to the bottom. I have plugged the holes and expect to pump the ship dry, readjust the blocks and dock her again. The gale continues."

A FEARFUL PREDICAMENT.

Six Men Adrift at Sea in a Disabled Bark

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 8.—The steam tug which left Saturday with the dismantled bark Albatross for Norfolk returned this morning. The captain reports that yesterday morning, when thirty miles northeast of Frying Pan light, the hawser separated and the bark went adrift in the gale. There are six men on the bark, which is without boats, sails or ballast, and it is feared that they have perished.

A FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED.

A Washout the Cause of the Accident—Three Men Killed.

WEST POINT, Va., April 8.—A wreck occurred on the York River, Richmond & Danville railway, two miles above this place, Saturday night. Heavy rains had washed out a culvert and a part of a dam and the engine and seven freight cars plunged into the washout. Three men were killed and the engineer was terribly scalded.

THE PRAIRIE FIRES.

People in Dakota Rejoicing Over the Spring Rains Which Have Just Set In.

ST. PAUL, April 8.—A special from South Dakota reports that the usual spring rains have at last set in, and will soon extinguish the prairie fires that are running all over the country. The people are rejoicing.

FROM ALASKA.

Arrival of the United States Marshal With Five Prisoners.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—United States Marshal A[illegible] of Alaska, accompanied by his son, Deputy Marshal A[illegible], arrived here from Sitka to-day. They brought five prisoners for incarceration at San Quentin. Among them is [illegible], convicted of the murder of [illegible], recently sentenced to life imprisonment. The others are for minor offenses.

Asked about political matters in Alaska he said: "John G. Brady, of the Sitka Trading Company, wants to be governor. He has been recommended by Rev. Sheldon Jackson and I saw a telegram while North stating that Jackson said he had seen the president and been assured by him that he would appoint Brady. This will be a great surprise to the people of Alaska, for they did not want him, and though they knew he was a candidate they did not believe it was possible that he would get it. He is being pushed by a few missionaries there, but besides them, and I might say including them, there are not five men who want him. Brady is United States commissioner. He was appointed by President Arthur and held office all through the Cleveland administration. Nobody knew what his politics were. They were talking of an indignation meeting when I came away. Brady went up there ten years ago as a missionary. He soon quit the missionary business and went to trading. There was more money in it. Brady has used public money contrary to section 5[illegible] of the revised statutes. I have evidence in my possession to prove this. If he should be appointed by Harrison the people will bring forward evidence, I am fully certain to prevent his confirmation."

A REMARKABLE DEATH.

A Colored Man Is Killed While Pulling His Own Tooth

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—A special from Clinton, Wisconsin, says: A colored man named Joseph Cullen, who resided a few miles out, met his death yesterday in a remarkable manner. He was in the habit of extracting his own teeth, which usually come so hard as to require his utmost strength to draw them, but he tried one yesterday that came so much easier than he expected that the action caused his head to fly back so rapidly as to partially dislocate his neck, causing death instantly.

FOR THE GRAND RONDE.

Hunt's Proposition To Connect It With Puget Sound.

THE COMMITTEE NOW IN SEATTLE

They Want $40,000 Subsidy From That City and Tacoma—La Grande Is Content With Portland and the O. R. & N.

SEATTLE, W. T., April [illegible] ... Union county ... Ronde valley ... Oregon ... from Walla Walla ... Blue mountains, a distance of eighty-six miles, provided a subsidy of $[illegible] and depot grounds be given him. Union county had raised $1[illegible],000 and would steel the ... $150,000. Hunt agreed to bring the produce of Union county to tidewater ... at the same rate that the O. R. & N. charges to Portland, the road to be finished by September 1, 1889.

The delegation desired ... on the Sound, $30,000 to be used to finish the subsidy and $10,000 to be used to purchase right of way. Seattle was asked to raise $20,000 and Tacoma will be asked for $20,000 of the subsidy. The idea is to ship to the Sound via the O. & W. T. and Northern Pacific railroads rather than to Portland, in order to save $2 per ton which it costs to get wheat from Portland to the mouth of the Columbia.

The matter was referred to the railroad committee, who will confer with the Union county delegation to-day.

It has all come from Union county, Summerville, Elgin and Island City.

ASTORIA, Or., April 8.—The captain of the schooner Norma, which arrived in from San Francisco yesterday, states that when ... Sunday she sailed through a vast number of fur seal, whales, porpoises and sea lions. So plentiful were they that they hardly kept out of the way of the schooner and one large whale was struck by the vessel. The school was of such vast proportions that the look-out aloft could not see where it ended and not until about 10 miles off the whistling buoy did the schooner run clear of them. Millions of sea gulls hovered over them. The supposition is that they were following up an enormous school of fish.

A Serious Irregularity in the Chicago Election.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OUTLAWS

Shocking Callousness Displayed at a Wedding—The Diablo Canyon Train Robbers Captured—A Peculiar Fate

CHICAGO, April 8.—Politicians in this city have been ... by the announcement that it is contended that the recent municipal election of this city was illegal, and that it is within the power of any citizen to overthrow it. This state of affairs grows out of a decision of the state supreme court rendered since the election was held.

Last November the suburban towns of Brighton Park and Cicero were by vote of their people annexed to Chicago. The village officers of both places, however, contested the matter and it has since been pending in the courts. The decision of the court annexed the territory to the townships of South and West Chicago, but did not make it a part of the city, the power to extend the limits of which rests entirely with the city council. Therein lies the trouble. The law of the state provides that whenever all of a township lies within the limits of a city, the city election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April, and where the township is not all included within the city limits the election shall be held on the third Tuesday in April. Under the decision of the supreme court notifying of the annexation of Brighton Park and Cicero to the towns of West and South Chicago, the city does not entirely cover the townships, and, therefore the municipal election should have been held April 16.

Moreover the law requires that twenty days' notice of the election shall be given and as the time is too short between this date and the third Tuesday in April for the legal notice, it seems questionable whether the mistake can be rectified by a new election on that date.

Wide fields of speculation are open as to the possibility of reversing the verdict of the people in the recent political landslide. It is claimed that if the present republican administration is willing to invoke the law it can hold over and prevent the newly elected democrats from taking their seats. It is said that Mayor Roche has consulted the corporation counsel in regard to the matter, but it cannot be learned that any decision was reached.

This evening a resident of the annexed territory applied to Judge Jamieson for an injunction restraining the election commissioners from counting or declaring the votes cast. The ground taken was that the residents of the annexed territory, having no notice of the election, were deprived of their electoral rights, vitiating the whole election. The applicant was armed with the recommendation from a master in chancery that the injunction be issued. Judge Jamieson set the matter for hearing at 10 A. M. to-morrow.

THE M'CLELLANTOWN ROBBERS.

Driven From Their Refuge, They Seek Another in an Adjoining County.

PITTSBURG, April 8.—A special from Uniontown says: In addition to the terror instilled throughout Fayette county by the McClellantown band of outlaws they are creating greater terror in the adjoining county of Preston in West Virginia. When they were driven from their refuge near Markleysburg, they went across the line into West Virginia and are now said to be located in a house near Globe Mills, a small hamlet.

The reports say that there are six of them in the gang now and that nightly they commit some depredation on the citizens in the vicinity. So great is the excitement over the presence, robbing and victimizing of the gang that the neighborhood is in despair. Local desperadoes have joined forces with the gang and they threaten all kinds of vengeance on anyone who interferes with them.

The place where they hold the fort is near a distillery, and this adds to their recklessness. Appeals from people in the neighborhood have been sent to the nearest town of any size, Kingwood, asking for help. An organized effort is to be made to capture them under the command of West Virginia officers. The district is far away from telegraphic communication, and is only accessible by a long journey, so that the particulars only reach this place in a fragmentary way.

BARBARIC CALLOUSNESS.

A Mother's Sudden Death Fails to Disturb the Festivities of a Wedding Party.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Last evening at a well known restaurant Miss Jennie Knapp and Samuel Hoffman were married by Rabbi Janowitz. The party then repaired to the banquet hall. Hardly had the supper been commenced, when the happy smile died from the lips of Mrs. Knapp, the mother of the bride. She rose to her feet, swayed to and fro for a second and then with a groan fell to the floor dead. The party stood around in little groups, until some one called in a neighboring undertaker. The bride then kissed her mother's quiet face and the body was taken away. The friends and relatives then resumed their seats and the feasting went on.

When a reporter called, he begged pardon, saying that he had heard that there had been a sudden death at the place.

"So there was," replied the brother-in-law of the deceased. "The bride's mother is dead."

So loud was the talk and laughter of the wedding party during the interview that the questions had to be repeated several times.

A ledge of gold bearing quartz has been discovered at Telocaset, on the O. R. & N., and considerable excitement has been occasioned thereby. It is said the find is rich.

Even the democratic papers of Eastern Oregon endorse the candidacy of Ben Cleaver, of Baker county, and A. C. McClelland, of Union county, to be register and receiver respectively of the La Grande land office. The Baker City Democrat says: "Both these gentlemen are in every way fitted for the place to which they aspire, and their selection will be highly satisfactory to the people of this section."

Speaking of crime in Grant county, the Canyon City [illegible] says: [illegible] ... have been committed in Grant county within the past twelve months. Of this number ... slayers of their fellow beings ... one is serving a four or five years term in the penitentiary, one is under sentence of death, one is unknown, one was considered justifiable homicide ... one was ... killed, one was released by the justice of the peace at Burns and afterwards made his escape, and two are awaiting trial. All this within a year, besides numerous cutting and shooting affrays ... taxpayers and jurors ... is it not high time that some of the cool bloodied villains ... at the rope's end.

STATE BOARD OF HORTICULTURE

First Regular Meeting Under the New Law—Organization—Officers Elected—Discussion—Adjournment.

A law was passed at the last session of the legislature creating a state board of horticulture to divide the state into five horticultural districts and provided that the governor should appoint one suitable person from each district and one from the state at large.

In compliance with this, Governor Pennoyer appointed some weeks ago Henry E. Dosch of Portland for the first district; E. S. Wallace of Salem for the second district; J. D. Whitman of Medford for the third district; J. A. Varney of The Dalles for the fourth district; James Hendershott, of Cove, Union county, for the fifth district, and Dr. J. R. Cardwell of Portland, for the state at large.

These gentlemen met yesterday in this city at the council chamber and after duly qualifying effected an organization by electing Dr. J. R. Cardwell president, [illegible] W. Allen secretary and E. S. Wallace treasurer. The office and headquarters of the board were established at No. 171 Second street, in this city, after which the board entered into a thorough discussion of the best methods to be adopted for the carrying into effect the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of the bill creating the board.

It was the unanimous opinion of the board that active steps should be at once taken to rouse the orchardists of the state to the necessity of entering into a united war of extermination of the orchard pests that have already secured so strong a hold among us and which [illegible] ... unless extraordinary measures are adopted for destroying them.

It was determined to issue a bulletin at an early day, giving [illegible] remedies ... applying them, and also ... to every person who may have trees infested with any obnoxious insect to use the necessary means ... possible, to destroy them in the interests not only of themselves, but in the interests of the state at large.

While it is not the desire or purpose of the board to make use of the harsher means placed in their hands for the enforcement of the law enacted under which they are working, yet it is the determination and purpose of the board to see that the law shall not remain a dead letter upon the statute books, but that it shall be complied with as far as they may be able to make it ... the purposes for which it was enacted.

The board adjourned to meet this morning at 9 o'clock. The members living at a distance will remain over and participate in the deliberations of the Horticultural Society, which holds its regular quarterly meeting at the council chamber, convening at 10 o'clock A. M.

SOUTHERN OFFICES.

The President Will Not Confine Himself to Party Lines in the Matter of Appointments.

CHICAGO, April 8.—The News Washington special says: A signal of distress is raised by the Washington Press, the organ of the office seekers, in a double-leaded article at the head of its editorial columns, as follows: In a republican form of government the majority should rule. To concentrate a majority of votes upon one side or the other upon a given policy, political parties are necessary. In the administration of the government by a dominant party it is usage to recognize the members of that party for official positions and in all sections of the republic, as much in the West as in the East, as well in the South as in the North, in proportion as each section contributes to the success of that party. When the administration ventures beyond the line of its supporters to select men from the opposition for office, especially in sections where the party is in the minority, it is an admission of weakness, a reflection upon its adherents. It produces dissensions, results in demoralization and in the end destroys the organization of the party.

This article is based upon unquestionable authority (no less than that of the president himself) that he does not intend to be governed by party lines in making appointments to office in the Southern States. This has been intimated in his correspondence before, but the intent of the president is made more and more plain with every delegation from the South that goes to the White house for offices.

Chairman Blunt, of the Louisiana delegation, which called yesterday, said to-day: "The president told our delegation about what he did the one from South Carolina concerning the course he intends to pursue in making appointments in the South. He told us that he intended to pursue a line of policy that would prove a benefit to every citizen of the South, white and colored, and secure a fair vote and an honest count at the elections, none but the best men, the most influential, most respected, are to receive office in the Southern States, and if he can't find republicans who answer this description he will take democrats. He wants to increase the republican strength and enlarge the republican party by bringing into it the educated, thinking men of independent disposition, men who are disgusted with the bourbon democracy of the South, and are anxious to see a new order of things there. The president believes that by appointing such men to office he can bring about a new order of things, and he will use the offices as a wedge to split the Solid South."

Blunt's understanding is corroborated at the White house, where it is said the president wants to extend the lines of the party in the South so as to embrace within its organization white men of independent views. In other words, he proposes to find men of influence among the conservative element of the democratic party who will accept prominent offices and serve as a nucleus for a new organization.

These announcements are causing consternation among Southern republicans, and they are running in great distress to the Northern leaders of the party to have them enter a remonstrance. But General Harrison has demonstrated beyond a question the fact that he is president of the United States and that he is going to give the offices to whomever he thinks best.

Stanley's Letter to the Royal Geographical Society.

A HOME RULE PLAN FOR SCOTLAND

Boulanger Denies That He Has Been Warned to Leave Belgium—English Emigrants Fight Their Way Ashore

LONDON, April 8.—Henry M. Stanley's letter to the Royal Geographical Society was read at a meeting of that body [illegible]. The letter consists mainly of a repetition of what has already been published.

He describes at length the various devices by which the natives endeavored to prevent the advance of the expedition. One of these was to dig shallow pits across the path of the column and fill them with skewers, which were covered with leaves. The skewers pierced the feet of Stanley's men, and the wounds thus inflicted in many cases developed into dangerous sores. The men who were injured in this manner were seldom fit for further service.

Stanley calls the natives "cunning rogues," and says that for the purpose of extortion they always pretended that the country was suffering from famine.

Stanley believes that the lakes which he discovered in 1876 belonged to the Congo.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT FOR SCOTLAND

A Bill Introduced in the Commons by the Lord Advocate.

LONDON, April 8.—In the commons to-night the lord advocate introduced a bill providing for local government in Scotland. The bill creates county councils, the members of which are to be elected by the householders. All boroughs with a population of less than [illegible] will be merged into counties. The others will be self governed. The powers of the councils extend to private bill legislation. The right of legislating on private bills has hitherto been vested in parliament. The measure is therefore a step in the direction of home rule. The functions of the councils are otherwise similar to those of the English councils.

Ever made to the Pacific Northwest was started yesterday by Russell & Co. from their large factory at Massillon, Ohio, and consigned to RUSSELL & CO. (Branch House), PORTLAND, OREGON. The immense business done by this house on the Coast is evidenced by the fact that they now prefer and find it more convenient to ship their machinery in train load lots rather than have it come in lesser quantities. Due notice will be given in all the newspapers along the route of the arrival of this train at the various points through which it will pass.

EAST SIDE WATER RATES.

Effort Being Made by the Council to Have Them Reduced.

A Franchise for the Albina Company—Various Street Improvements—A Disease-Breeding Pool of Water—News Notes.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night, with Mayor Wheeler in the chair and a quorum present. The most important measure introduced was the following resolution, which was adopted to regulate the rates of the East Portland Water Company:

Whereas, It appears to the common council of the city of East Portland that the water rates charged the city, as well as the rates charged private consumers therein, by the East Portland Water Company for water furnished by it are exorbitant and unreasonable in comparison with the said company's revenue; therefore be it

Resolved, That John H. Hall and Thomas E. Turnbull, residents and freeholders in the said city, be and are hereby appointed commissioners to act with two commissioners to be appointed by said water company in fixing and regulating the water rates to be charged by the East Portland Water Company during the year next ensuing or until the same shall be changed by another commission, as provided by law. C. N. RANKIN.

The recorder was instructed to notify the water company of the action taken and also inform the two commissioners of their appointment.

COMMUNICATION.

From W. F. Creitz, saying: "I would most respectfully represent that there exists a pool of stagnant and polluted water at the northeast corner of H and Second streets which if not drained or abated soon will breed pestilence and death to those living in the vicinity. The spot referred to is completely hemmed in by the Second street embankment and the large fills on H and G streets to the north and south thereof. The place has been rendered tenfold more odious and disgusting from the fact that it is now made the receptacle of all the vile slops and waste water being drained directly into it above ground from the numerous tenants of the Harrington block on Fourth and H streets. I would request that the committee on health and police be directed to investigate this disease and death breeding nuisance at the earliest opportunity with the view of its abatement by a drain through the Second street embankment," referred to the health and police committee and the street commissioner, with power to act.

PETITIONS.

From J. H. McMillen, A. G. Ryan and other interested parties, saying that funds are being raised to build a bridge across Montgomery's slough, and asking that the council give the same some assistance, referred to the street committee.

From a large number of taxpayers asking that A. S. Cummings be appointed policeman in the first ward, referred to health and police committee.

REPORTS.

From J. A. Beach and A. W. Llewellyn, special committee, recommending that the bill presented at the last meeting by the East Portland Water company be not paid [illegible].

From the fire and water committee recommending passage of an ordinance granting the Albina Water Company a franchise in this city, adopted.

From the street committee, recommending that the grades on Hawthorne avenue be not changed, as there is a remonstrance against it, adopted.

From the street commissioner reporting that a portion of Sixteenth street between Oregon and Willamette is yet uncompleted. Mr. Kelly will be instructed to complete his contract forthwith.

From the street committee recommending that the ordinance providing for the time and manner of improving Fifteenth street be passed, adopted.

WATER FRANCHISE.

The following is the full text of the ordinance granting the Albina Water Company right of way through the streets to lay pipes for the purpose of conducting water through the city:

The city of East Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1—That the Albina Water Company and its successors and assigns be and are hereby granted the privilege of laying pipes through the streets of the city of East Portland for the purpose of conducting water through the city.

Sec. 2—That the ditches for laying pipes shall be sunk two feet, and that the pipes conducting the water shall be under the surface or level of the established grade of the street from six to ten inches, and that no pipes shall be laid so as to interfere with the construction of sewers; provided that nothing in this ordinance shall be so construed as to grant any exclusive right or privilege of conducting water in this city.

On motion the city attorney was instructed to amend the above ordinance so that one [illegible] charged [illegible] the first faucet, and the other charges are to correspond with the Portland rates.

The ordinance was then passed with the following vote: Ayes—[illegible] Hallpay, Shaw, [illegible], [illegible] Hendrick, Haddon and Foster.

ORDINANCES.

Authorizing an eight year contract with the East Portland Water company at $100 a month. Read once and laid on the table.

Providing for the time and manner of improving Eleventh street, passed.

Repealing an ordinance adopting the report of the surveyor for the opening and extension of Seventh street to Riverside addition, referred to the street committee.

Granting J. H. Lambert and B. F. Smith the right to construct and maintain a street railway on O and Ninth streets to the southern limits of the city, passed. [It is the line that is proposed to be extended to Sellwood and Milwaukie. The projectors have stated they will commence work as soon as they receive a franchise.]

MISCELLANEOUS.

On motion George Brown was authorized to lay two eighteen inch drain pipes for a culvert on Asylum creek on Hawthorne avenue. He will make a fill there.

Mr. J. W. Kerns addressed the council in relation to Fifth street and asked that something be done by which the work on the same may be accepted. The people desire to go ahead and complete the improvement on the grade as established by them. The recorder was instructed to draw an ordinance adopting the report of the surveyor on that street, the report being in accordance with the grade as established by the property holders.

NEWS NOTES.

A MERITED TRIBUTE.

The following tribute is paid to Miss Ida Wells, who died last week, by the principal of the Holladay school:

Miss Ida Wells, who died at [illegible] last week, was a former [illegible] of the Holladay school and a lady of inestimable worth [illegible] character. Although she had but just started [illegible] career (being but 18 years of age) she [illegible] her kind, loving and upright life, endeared herself to teachers, schoolmates and all with whom her young life had come in contact. She was [illegible] ready to perform any and all of life's duties and by her geniality and kindliness aided in making others happy around her. In her death, friends feel that they have suffered an irreparable loss. Yet they know that by following her life's example they will be prepared to meet her in the great future where parting is unknown, and that what they have lost by her death has been ultimate gain for her. In all her intercourse with friends she exhibited a sunny and cheerful disposition, thereby carrying out the "Golden Rule of Life."

REVIVAL SERVICES NEXT WEEK.

During the month of January a successful series of revival meetings were conducted in the Adams street M. E. church by Rev. T. J. Jones, resulting in the conversion of about eighty persons. The church was greatly revived and the membership and congregation doubled. A second series of revival meetings will be commenced in the same church one week from this evening, Tuesday, April 16, conducted by Rev. James Conley, a young evangelist, recently from Canada. Mr. Conley has labored at Brooks, Fairview, Rockwood and other points recently and has been attended in his efforts with a very marked success. It is expected that Rev. Mr. Wood, of Fairview, and Rev. Mr. Tate, of Silverton, will aid in these meetings.

SOME STATEMENTS CORRECTED.

A few days ago an item appeared in regard to certain changes that had occurred in the ownership of the Pacific Baptist. Referring to this paragraph, Rev. S. P. Davis, editor and proprietor of the publication, writes a note to correct some statements made. Among other things, he says:

"It is not true that the Baptist has been sold to the [illegible] Publishing Company, nor that Professor Ashrooke takes charge [illegible] as editor and sole proprietor. Arrangements have just been made by which the [illegible] Company will do the mechanical work on the Pacific Baptist, while Professor Ashrooke becomes business manager."

FINE IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. George Beck and wife will certainly have one of the finest and most attractive places in East Portland when all the improvements they are now making are completed. The buildings have been repaired all through and are now being repainted and ornamented. A neat barn has just been finished in one corner of the grounds. In the front yard an elegant fountain has been put up, which adds much to the beauty of the place. Improvements of this sort are just what are needed to build up and beautify the town.

WILL BE ENFORCED.

The city officers are now determined to enforce the ordinance in relation to the obstruction of streets and sidewalks. There has been just complaint in relation to the obstruction of sidewalks by merchants and business men, and it is really necessary that some action should be taken to stop it. The growth of the city and consequent increase in business renders it imperative that the streets and sidewalks should henceforth be kept clear of obstructions.

NEW PASTOR.

Rev. Mr. Snodgrass, the new pastor of the First Baptist church, and his family, have arrived from Youngstown, Ohio, and he will at once enter upon the discharge of his duties in his new field. He preached in the Baptist church Sunday morning and made a favorable impression upon all who heard him.

NOTES.

Miss Emma Hamilton has gone to Polk county on a visit.

Foster & Stansbury are successors to S. Alford, the grocer, dealer in staple and fancy groceries, 251 I street, near Fourth.

The hole smashed in the roadway Saturday evening by Mr. Segel's team going through it, is being repaired by the property holders.

A lumber-laden schooner and two large barges with similar cargoes, arrived at Duniway & Co.'s docks Sunday, and were all busy unloading yesterday.

FEDERATED TRADES ASSEMBLY.

The Boycott Falls on Weinhard's Beer—Other Matters of Interest.

The regular meeting of the Federated Trades Assembly was held last night at their hall in Merchants' block, Captain John O'Brien in the chair.

A communication was received from the Carpenters' Union asking for the trades to create the office of general walking delegate and to open a union labor bureau, referred to the several unions for action.

The following communication was received from the Master Brewers in regard to the demand of the assembly and the Brewers' Union to hire union men:

PORTLAND, Or., April 8, 1889.

To the Federated Trades Assembly: We, the undersigned brewers of this city and Vancouver, have herewith occasion to reply in answer to your proposition laid before them by your executive board, as to employing all union men, and would say that we have no objection to union men, but must insist upon the privilege of employing such men as suit us best, union or non-union.

As to the question of wages and hours of work, we shall act in conformity with the just wishes and demands of the men now in our employ.

H. WEINHARD,
HERRALL & ZIMMERMAN,
[illegible],
B. YOUNG & CO.

The communication was received and action on the same to come up under new business.

I. A. Hathaway and D. W. Forbes, a committee from the [illegible] union, were allowed seats in the assembly to investigate the benefits to be derived by that union in joining the assembly.

The executive committee reported that they had waited on the employing brewers of the city in accordance with the instructions of the assembly and the Brewers' union had shown them all the contract as to hiring union men, etc. The report was received.

The delegate from the Bakers' union stated that his union had made a settlement with the Oregon German Baking Company and that the boycott was lifted, as their demands have been complied with. He thanked the delegates and the unions they represented for their assistance.

The beer question now came up for action. The chair stated that at the last meeting of the assembly a continual boycott was placed on Weinhard's beer, in case that establishment refused to sign the articles presented by the Brewers' union. That union had already placed a boycott on Weinhard's beer, and now asked the assembly to endorse their action.

A motion prevailed indorsing the action of the brewers' union in the withdrawal of the patronage of organized labor in the city of Portland from the Weinhard brewery until union brewers are employed. The following committee was appointed to assist the brewers in placing the boycott: Robt. Glen, Sr., Michael Dooney, Fritz Rottel, Ed. Kilfether and M. M. Harr.

Mr. A. Matter, organizer of the Brotherhood of United Labor, was introduced and he spoke fifteen minutes on the object of that order. It is the split from the Knights of Labor, known as the I. B. Barry movement.

The chair in reply stated that this was a representative body of trades and labor unions and that most of the unions were a part of the great body of trades unionists known as the American Federation of Labor; that there was no friction here between the unions and the Knights of Labor. There were some slight differences on the sound, he said, but none in Eastern Washington. Mr. Matter, after answering some questions asked, retired.

The organizing committee was increased by the addition of C. Bromberg, Robert Glen, Sr., Michael Dooney and Peter Watts.

Several speeches were made under the head of good and welfare of the organization. Watts stated that the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners had organized a union at Astoria.

H. Fowler, from the tailors' union, stated that the Bon Ton tailoring establishment now employs union tailors—making five houses that employ union tailors in this city.

The cigar makers' delegate stated that they are gaining patrons for the union made cigars.

The receipts of the evening were $41. Adjourned to Monday evening, April 15, at 7:30 sharp.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED.

Permits for erecting buildings were issued by the superintendent of streets yesterday as follows:

R. Richards, a two-story cottage on Nineteenth and T streets, estimated to cost $[illegible]00.

J. A. Robertson, a two story frame house on Kelly and Lane streets, estimated to cost $1600.

Wm. McReynolds, two one-story cottages on Nineteenth and T streets, estimated to cost $800.

J. S. Reed, addition to the county court house on Main between Fourth and Fifth streets, estimated to cost $[illegible],000.

An Invincible Duet.

Sometimes, and with some natures, all that seems to be needed is confidence and a physician. [illegible] the imagination properly guided is the remedy.

But in desperate matters confidence and a good remedy make an invincible duet at whose assault disease promptly yields.

Here is what the voice of experience has to say of it:

[illegible], March 14, 1888.

"I feel that I can not say too much in praise of Compound Oxygen Treatment. The first time I wrote you I was a complete physical wreck; my nerves so exhausted that it was with difficulty that I moved about the house. Last Thursday I walked a mile and a half in the country to visit a friend, and could have walked as far again I think, without being tired. If my name in experience is of any use to you you are at liberty to use them at any time. MRS. FLORENCE BLUE."

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia, all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent free of charge to any one addressing Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., or 331 Montgomery street, San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. Gruff—Have you been to see "Midsummer Night's Dream" at the theater, Guppy? Guppy—Naw, but I hear that the—aw—leading lady is a beauty. She might—aw—fall in love with me if I went. Ha! ha! Mr. Gruff—Shouldn't wonder. In the play she falls in love with an ass. A chance for you, Guppy.—Texas Siftings.

WILL PORTLAND CELEBRATE?

The Board of Trade Takes Hold of the Inauguration Centennial.

A Suggestion to Levy a Special Tax For Dredging Purposes Favorably Received—Oregon in Australia.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held at their rooms last evening, President Donald Macleay in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Arnold and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, March 21, 1889.

Hon. Donald Macleay, President Board of Trade, Portland, Oregon—My Dear Sir: When the sundry civil bill was under consideration in the senate I moved an amendment and carried it through the senate, appropriating $6000 to replace the telegraph cable at Tatoosh island, Washington territory. The house of representatives refused to accept the amendment and it was lost in conference. General Greely proposes to continue the operation of the old line until January 1, 1890, in case public sentiment demands, but he does not feel justified in going beyond that date. I would suggest that your board indicate to General Greely the importance of continuing the line as long as possible.
JOHN H. MITCHELL.

On motion it was ordered that a committee of three be appointed to prepare and forward to General Greely a memorial asking that the operation of the line be continued.

From Hamilton A. Hill, secretary of the National Board of Trade, stating that the assessment on membership of the board for 1888-89 has been fixed at the rate of $[illegible] for each delegate. The Portland Board of Trade is entitled to representation by two delegates. He states that the report of the proceedings of the board at its last meeting in Chicago is ready for distribution and asks that when received it be referred to a special committee for consideration and report upon the various subjects on which it took action and which are pending before it.

On motion it was ordered that a committee of three be appointed to receive and examine the document and make the reports desired.

PLANS FOR DUMP SCOWS.

UNITED STATES SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30, 1889.

Donald Macleay, Esq., President of the Board of Trade, Portland—My Dear Sir: This morning I received your telegram concerning the construction of dump barges for government use in connection with the city dredge. I at once called upon the chief of engineers, and requested that the needed authority should be given. I was informed that, while Major Jones had written to the chief of engineers concerning the matter, he had not submitted a project for the expenditure and recommended it. So far as I could ascertain from Major Adams, acting chief of engineers, there will be no difficulty in securing the authority asked for when the expenditure is recommended by the engineer in charge. I shall be glad to give the matter any further attention needed. Yours truly,
J. N. DOLPH.

Messrs. Williams & Wood presented a bill for preparing an opinion in regard to discrimination by the Southern Pacific Company in the matter of wheat shipments. The bill was $500, but in consideration of the fact that the work was done for the benefit of the public, a discount of $100 was made. On motion it was ordered paid.

Messrs. Norden & Church and Richard [illegible] were proposed for membership and referred to the proper committee.

The committee on membership having reported favorably on the application of Messrs. Levy and Spiegl they were duly elected members of the board by a unanimous vote.

IN MEMORY OF DR. ATKINSON.

The committee, consisting of Messrs. F. K. Arnold, Charles H. Dodd and E. D. McKee, appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the board regarding the death of the Rev. G. H. Atkinson, presented the following report:

WHEREAS, The Rev. G. H. Atkinson, D. D., a member of this board, has been removed by death, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. Atkinson our board has lost a most useful member, who, for many years, was chairman of the meteorological committee and whose labors in this department were of lasting value to this city and state.

Resolved, That the work of Dr. Atkinson during the forty years that he was a resident of Oregon was unremitting in the direction of the religious, moral, educational and material development of the Northwest. Among the first pioneers of this vast region, he early foresaw its boundless possibilities, and while devoting himself to religious work, lost no opportunity to extol with tongue and pen its attractions to settlers, the richness of its soil, the matchless beauty of its scenery and the salubrity of its climate. It is difficult to estimate the value of the labors of such a man, extending over so long a time during the formative period of our commonwealth. He has left the imprint of his character upon institutions and communities and reared for himself a monument more lasting than brass. His life fulfilled the highest duties of citizenship, and his death is a loss to this community and state.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased.

On motion the report was adopted.

A TAX FOR DREDGING PURPOSES.

The committee appointed to confer with a committee of the council in regard to repairing the dredge and dredging the rivers reported that the council would repair the dredge and Major Jones would second their efforts and that as could be seen by Senator Dolph's communication, it was quite certain that the government would furnish the barges. The committee was continued in order that it might attend to any business which might arise in connection with this matter.

It was suggested that the board recommend to the common council that they make a special levy for dredging purposes, as about every other year the river and harbor appropriation fails. The suggestion met with general approval, but as nearly a year will elapse before another levy will be made the recommendation was postponed.

Mr. Schuyler called the attention of the board to the fact that Mr. John Kelly had been appointed by the governor a commissioner to the Paris exposition, and moved that he be indorsed by the board, and that the secretary be instructed to furnish him with the proper credentials. Carried.

OREGON'S RELATIONS WITH AUSTRALIA.

Mr. T. B. Merry being called upon for some account of his visit to the Melbourne exposition, thanked the board for assisting in defraying his expenses. He reported what he had done to set before the Australians the advantages offered by Oregon and said that if they could be assured of a market for their coal here, there would be a great increase in the trade in lumber with that country. He also called attention to complaint he had heard in regard to the Australian colonies being flooded with ill packed salmon of inferior quality labeled as Columbia river salmon and the names of fictitious firms. He had seen this inferior fish in every town he had visited in the colonies and thought the board should frown down this business which had a tendency to destroy the reputation of Columbia river salmon.

WORK OF THE IMMIGRATION BOARD.

Mr. Dodd presented a brief resume of the work of the board of immigration for the past year and said it was in order for the president to appoint a committee of five to act on the board.

PORTLAND WILL CELEBRATE.

The attention of the board was called to the fact that on the 30th of this month the last of the centennial festivities will occur celebrating the inauguration of Washington and it was asked if the board desired to take any steps toward getting up a celebration on that occasion.

President Macleay said this was a matter in which every citizen was interested, and a very proper matter for the consideration of the board.

Mr. Zan, in a brief speech, paid a glowing tribute to the father of our country and said all should go to work to get up a grand and glorious celebration of the day.

Colonel Beebe being called on, said it was desired to have a grand military parade and to have the three regiments of the O. N. G. here and if possible the military from Vancouver. In order to do this the expenses of transportation must be paid and the troops should be cared for while they were here.

Mr. Arnold said it would be a great shame if Portland did not have a celebration. The time was getting short and it was quite proper that the board should take hold of the matter.

Mr. Osborn thought a mass meeting should be called but it was concluded that as the time was short and the work must be done at once it would be better for a committee of fifteen to be appointed to take charge of the matter and have the preparations made [illegible].

On motion the president was instructed to appoint a committee of fifteen who will attend to providing transportation, collecting funds, etc.

President Macleay stated that he would attend to appointing the various committees to-day.

Adjourned.

ON WAVE, AND ALONG STREAM.

Shipping Items Gathered by the Marine Reporter in His Rambles Yesterday.

Captain Harry [illegible], of the S. G. Reed, has furnished Edward J. Rathbone, chief clerk of the port captain's office of the O. R. & N. Co., the following account of the killing of John Behrends on the night of the 6th inst.:

"When I first saw the boat, it was some distance away in the darkness directly ahead of me. The man on watch with me and myself looked at the boat which was painted a dark color, and took it to be a log. I put my helm to starboard for the purpose of going between the supposed log and bank of the river which was very near, I having followed down pretty close. On a second look through the glass I saw that the object was a boat containing two men pulling hard directly toward shore and across my bow. I put my helm hard a starboard and started to back the steamer immediately. I almost instantly brought the Reed around and ran into the bank full tilt. The men in the boat did not stop pulling for the shore and we met at an angle. The tide, which was running out, and the headway of the Reed swung her stern around striking the small boat which capsized, and the steamer drifted completely over it and its occupants.

"Assistance was immediately rendered, and one of the men fished out. The other was, after much time and trouble, taken out of the tangled gill net. Every effort was made to revive him, but without avail. If the men had obeyed the law requiring them to display a light after dark, the accident would not have occurred."

The steamer Novelty was inspected by Messrs. Ferguson and McDermott yesterday, and granted new papers. This steamer is the property of the Cutting Packing Company, and is used for carrying fish at their cannery at Loring, Alaska. She sails for Nanaimo this morning, where she takes on coal for the balance of her trip. Loring is about fifteen miles above Tongass Narrows.

The General Miles, which has been tied up at Flanders's wharf for some time past, is receiving a general overhauling. She is being repainted, and her machinery, which is in excellent condition, touched up here and there.

The following vessels have sailed and are on the seas bound for Portland: Barrundale, British Army, Sapphire, Cambrian Queen, Lillie E. Starbuck, Earl Dunraven and Ennerdale; tonnage, 10,174.

The following vessels are at Astoria finishing loading or ready for sea: Fiery Cross, Dunscore, Lartmore, Hornby Castle, City of Canton, C. S. [illegible] [illegible]; [illegible] tons.

The steamer Alliance arrived at [illegible] A. M. yesterday with a high cargo of lumber. She sails Thursday at 7 P. M.

The Oregon arrived at San Francisco yesterday, and the Columbia sailed.

THREE WEEKS OF SPIRITUALISM.

PORTLAND, April 8.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Spiritualism as taught and practiced by professionals has a great deal of imposture in it, and the credulous are so anxious to believe that they give themselves up to it. Yet there is something in it worth the critical examination of science. Some men know there is something worth examining and they are those who have been dragged in as "mediums" against their will, and after brief experience gave up the matter as unhealthy, if not unrighteous.

Almost forty years ago rappings were heard in Portland, and the undersigned became a medium against his will, and for a few weeks observed some incidents that were strange indeed. It was soon apparent to me that all things done and said were in my own consciousness or in the consciousness of some one who formed the circle. The sayings were in my phraseology, and while the incidents transpiring were strange and seemingly against the laws of nature, it is evident that they were not so but accorded with some power seemingly occult and beyond common reach. The movement of heavy bodies with no apparent motive power astonished many of the leading men of Oregon at that time. Incidents were told of lives of persons then present they could scarce recall but they did recall them. Famous men of prehistoric times—such as Ewing Young—were heard from. Several of us talked the matter over and concluded it was calculated to worry and vex but to do no good. So after three weeks' experience we dropped it and I only one or two have ever returned to it in nearly forty years.

I always believed if I had been credulous and given myself up to it, I could have become a great "medium," but having a determination to do right and to serve the [illegible] I finally abandoned it as pernicious. All there is to it, I believe, is that there is some natural law, which Mesmer discovered and used, by which mind dominates mind. There is some odic force involved that some pronounce the result of muscular action or intuition. This principle prevails and must be confessed and should be studied to a solution by philosophers.

EX-SHERIFF SCHOEPS,

A Prominent German, Gives His Views of Dr. Darrin's Wonderful Cure of His Daughter.

Editor Oregonian: I am not in the habit of placing myself in public print, but the wonderful result achieved by Dr. Darrin in the restoration of my daughter to health calls for mention that others similarly afflicted may avail themselves of the new treatment by electricity. My daughter was seriously afflicted for six months with loss of appetite, liver complaint, inflammation and rheumatic neuralgia throughout her whole system. Five physicians failed to cure her. Now I am happy to say she is cured. Refer to me at the Northwestern hotel, corner of Front and Clay streets, Portland, formerly of Oregon City, Or. A. F. SCHOEPS.

LINNTON.

The old rival of the city of Portland arises from her long sleep.

The Portland Smelting Company has located on the site of the old town and soon the hum of a busy industry will there awake the echoes.

Work for an extensive smelting plant has already commenced, which will bring in its train many other enterprises, among which are grain warehouses, a sawmill, brickyard, stores, warehouses, etc., in short, a busy, thriving town.

No better location for the business can be found on the river below Portland as the ground is free from sloughs and ravines. The company has reserved about thirty acres for the smelter, which will be built and put in working order as speedily as money and muscle will allow. Adjoining the smelter reservation is laid out the town of Linnton, consisting of about [illegible] acres with a river frontage of about 2000 feet with deep water to the shore, and to whose wharves the vessels of the world can come without let or hindrance, from the river coaster to the grain laden ship of thousands of tons. The site is beautiful and a view from the top of the western slope is grand and inspiring.

Lots in the townsite are 25x100 feet and will be sold for from $100 to $125 with a guarantee that the smelter will be built in ninety days. No better investment is offered. Call on the undersigned sole agent and select a few of these lots. Maps and terms at my office.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND TUESDAY, APRIL 9.

It is very plain that the Harrison administration is not fulfilling the expectations of office seekers It is plain, likewise, that republican senators and representatives who expected to redistribute the offices, out of hand, in their respective states are not satisfied Many senators are quoted by the Eastern press as quite out of humor because the president does not "consult" with them as to new appointments, so that lists may be made up at once for "the new deal"

One of the motives that caused the rejection of Murat Halstead for the German mission was this same feeling that senators had not been consulted sufficiently as to nominations A senator is quoted as saying "Where does the president expect to get his majorities to confirm his nominations if he ignores us?" All accounts agree that a rupture between the president and certain senators is imminent unless the president shall surrender to their demands and their demands, as the Pittsburg Dispatch tersely puts it, "are based on the idea that public office is private property to be used for the benefit of the senators and for the satisfaction of their personal grudges as well Beyond that, the conviction of many senators that they have a title in the offices is so strong that they regard their party principles as of no importance beside the vindication of their right to a large share of the spoils Every one of the revolting senators is pledged beyond recall to the support of the tariff and financial legislation which President Harrison's administration represents And yet their wrath at the idea that they may not be able to support their personal following at the public expense is such as to produce the threat that if they are ignored they will throw their party principles overboard in order to vote against the administration."

We think it certain that President Harrison will be driven into a conflict with this senatorial cabal, and that he will either be forced to yield to it or to contend against it and defeat its purposes What these senators now claim is just what the republican party will not allow or submit to, it is just what the party opposed and rebuked in former years, and it was among the most potent of the causes that led to the defeats that the party has suffered It will not do now any better than ten years ago indeed will be tolerated even less than it was then "Courtesy of the senate" is known of old as an equivalent term for the worst feature of the spoils system in public affairs

VESSELS FOR SAMOA

Our naval strength at Samoa can be reinforced by sending thither the Mohican which was at Panama on the 1st instant and could reach Apia in May The Mohican has been thoroughly repaired and now carries ten guns The fine new steel cruiser Atlanta which carries eight heavy guns was at Aspinwall on the 1st and can start for Samoa The Monongahela that has probably by this time reached Apia, is only a sailing vessel and supply ship carrying two guns The Iroquois seven guns and the Adams, six guns are under repair at Mare Island, and cannot be ready for sea before the middle of May At Honolulu is the Alert a small craft carrying but four guns The Dolphin which carries one six inch high power, breech loading rifle is at Shanghai The Omaha is also in the China seas She carries twelve guns The Charleston a new steel cruiser, carrying eight powerful guns can be sent from San Francisco by the 1st of May to Samoa. The Richmond, fourteen guns, has been ordered to Samoa

The latest advices announce that the harbor in which our vessels were wrecked is not the harbor at Pago-Pago to which the United States acquired a right by the treaty of 1878 Apia bay where our ships were wrecked, is no harbor at all, but is open at the north and exposed to every hurricane Apia bay is in the island of Upolu while Pago Pago is in Tutuila another island of the Samoan group It is on the south shore is perfectly landlocked with a safe entrance and water enough to float the navies of the world It is the finest harbor in the South Pacific and one of the finest harbors in the world The New York Sun recites these facts and says

Such a disaster as that of March 15 at Apia could not have happened at Pago Pago and it was practically to maintain our right to Pago-Pago that the Trenton the Vandalia and the Nipsic were at Apia, observing the German ships that were practically there to deprive us of our right to Pago-Pago

Pago-Pago is the only hurricane proof place of anchorage in Samoa. In the great commerce of the future between our Pacific coast and Australia and between Europe and Australia and southern Asia through the Nicaragua or Panama canal it will become one of the important ports of the world

The disaster at Apia therefore, is not likely to make the absolute ownership and possession of Samoa, including the harbor of Pago-Pago seem any less desirable to the eyes of those who are looking sharply after Germany's colonial future

A FEW COMPARISONS

The rush for office during the past week in Washington has been a scandal not upon the republican party but upon the political methods that have permitted and encouraged the development of the spoils system That this unseemly scramble must and will in the near future receive a check is indicated by the scathing censure of the press the deliberation with which really important changes are evidently to be made and the fact that hungry applicants beggared in purse are [illegible] to their homes minus the commissions they rushed to Washington in eager hope to secure

Indecent and disgraceful as has been the clamor of republicans for office since the late inauguration however, the person who imagines that it has never had a parallel in the history of the country is much mistaken Even the most caustic critics of republican partisans the mugwump newspapers admit that the siege of the White house is now practically raised the president utterly refusing to deal in promises or disturb at present the appointees of the late administration who are worthily discharging their official duties Comparisons are odious it is true but it is necessary to institute them occasionally in order to keep the political pessimist metaphorically speaking, from wrecking the country It is a matter of record that the siege of the White house was maintained by hungry democrats in 1885 until midsummer and that the clamor for office amounted to little less than a riot in Washington during the first six months of Cleveland's administration. That he yielded to this pressure in very many instances wherein his yielding worked public loss and inconvenience is also a matter of record Yet in the face of this fact we are constantly told that Cleveland disturbed but few republicans in office and that a majority of those in place when he went out were of the opposition party This absurd statement has been again and again disproved but nothing daunted, the enemies of the republican party repeat it.

A statement has been made from the records of the departments which shows the number of removals made by Cleveland up to June 11 1887 to have been 42 992 The total number of offices that may be vacated at the pleasure of the president is 56 134 so it appears that the democratic headsman was, at least moderately busy during the first half of Cleveland's administration While Cleveland did not remove every republican in office, official figures show that he did supplant more than four fifths of all those who were removable. The man who asserts that he was faithful to his promises of civil service reform proclaims himself in the statement either ignorant or dishonest

Thus far President Harrison has not made many changes. The indications are that he will be slow to make them. His appointment of residents of territories to territorial offices has given satisfaction, and here again the comparison makes Cleveland's methods odious since, in the face of positive assurance, personal and political to the contrary, he imported most of his official material to the territories from other sections. It is rather early to institute comparisons between the men and methods of the two administrations, but as democratic journals are giving largely of their space to this premature effort, it may be well to remind them that there is a fair chance at least for their comparisons to reflect more odium than credit upon Cleveland

In the meantime, while waiting for the new administration to develop its course and name the men whom it shall find necessary to carry on its work acceptably it may be well to consider that as the country survived the frantic raid for office that was made in 1885 it will most likely survive the annoyances of the present one and live on for another four years at least.

The dismissal of Captain Beecher from the position of special agent of the treasury department at Port Townsend meets general approval He was one of a number for whom the leaders of the late administration felt called upon to make provision, notwithstanding a cloudy record—a son of his father and mother, who out of political gratitude had to be set up in business, so to speak, to the extent of the lease of power secured by the Cleveland government His prompt discharge commends Secretary Windom as a man who in accordance with the principles of civil service reform does not hesitate to make removals for cause It would have been well for Captain Beecher had he flung away ambition, put the temptation of political greatness resolutely behind him and continued to ride the placid waters of the Sound as master of the steamer Evangel. The emoluments and perquisites of his official career can feebly atone for the reproach that has been brought upon a distinguished name

The heaviest snow storm of the season is reported in the New England and Middle states. In the same latitude in Oregon the grass is growing, roses are blooming, orchards are bowers of fragrance and the plowman whistles cheerily in the furrow If there is a homesick New Englander or Pennsylvanian in the state he should be sent at once by lightning express to the land for which he sighs at the expense of the state immigration board He would make an enthusiastic agent for Oregon and might be counted on to return with an eager colony at his heels not later than June in order to escape the torrid heats that in those regions quickly succeed the fierce snow storms of spring

Stanley in Central Africa.

Chicago Inter Ocean

Will his march be followed by such results as History records since DeSoto's day? He has opened a new world to the activity of civilization will climate and the temper of the native population be more successful in maintaining the inherent conservatism of barbarism in Africa than they were in America? What wealth of minerals and costly woods may lie in those forests, the one 40 000 the other 20 000 miles square, whose dimensions he discerned What supplies of grain and meat may be raised on the luxuriant plains whose wild herds fed and strengthened his band after the famine and fever of the vast woodlands What navies could ride on those lakes as large as any seas which were the objective point of his long journey? Will the next two centuries do as much for Africa as the last two have done for America? And if so what then will be the population and the commerce of the world?

The Chicago Election.

Chicago Inter Ocean

As cause and effect we have several thousand voters in our midst who have no political thought but to "get even" with law and order Two years ago that class was so rampant and the events themselves so fresh in the popular mind that the better class of democrats joined with the republicans in electing Mayor Roche. But now while some democrats voted for him out of appreciation of his record as a business mayor the party as a whole rallied around its own standard bearer and the very fact that Mr Roche was the law and order candidate for 1887 sufficed to give Mr Cregier not only the solid but the intense support of the disaffected and vengeful element There was no help for this All the campaign skill in the world could not stem such a tide It needed no leadership to rally the full opposition

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS'—Park Officer Myers finds it a hard matter to keep people from walking on the sloping banks and newly sowed lawn in the City Park. Although there are numerous notices posted, unthinking people will continue to trespass in spite of these signs. Besides those who walk over the sloping banks with unthinking recklessness, Mr Myers has to contend with unprincipled hoodlums and city dudes, who do it out of wanton mischief, and with no other purpose than to exercise their skill in eluding detection. Mr Myers again caught a trespasser Sunday evening, and had him fined in the police court yesterday afternoon. He will continue to arrest all who refuse to obey the printed placards warning people to keep off and the court will inflict a punishment severe enough to teach the trespasser a lesson. It is thought that a person's own good sense should be sufficient without any warning.

SEVEN CARS ORDERED.—Mr Jacob Kamm, president of the Ilwaco Railway & Navigation Company has placed an order with a car company East for seven cars for the company's road. One of these cars will be a very fine closed coach, finished up in fancy woods, nickel trimmings and silk plush upholstering. Six of them will be open and arranged for tourist accommodations during good weather. It is expected that the cars will be ready for shipping by the middle of June so that they will be put in use some time before July. It is expected that there will be a great many visitors at the seaside this year and ample accommodations are being provided for them. The Ilwaco road already has two very nice coaches and has been using several open flat cars rigged up with rough board seats for the use of passengers.

MORE OF THE SMELTER.—Everybody is anxious to hear of the progress being made in the construction of the proposed smelting works. Papers are being prepared to incorporate the company that have the project in hand under the laws of the state of Oregon with $1,000,000 capital. The railroad company are preparing to have the long elevated switch completed in a short time and those who have charge of the matter say they hope soon to convince the most skeptical that it is a smelter they are building and not alone a real estate scheme they are booming. That all the bright hopes and fond anticipations in regard to the matter may be realized is devoutly to be wished and his end, as in duty bound let all hands ever pray, etc.

FICK'S BENEFIT HOP.—The benefit ball tendered Adolph Fick at Turner hall Sunday night was a financial success netting him between $400 and $500. The ball was given by the Turn Verein and the musicians volunteered their services free of charge and the large hall was well filled with a jolly crowd who tripped the light fantastic until the small hours of the morning. In every way, socially and financially the ball was a great success. Fick is the unfortunate fireman connected with hook and ladder truck No 1 who was run over by the truck last fall and sustained very severe injuries, including a broken leg. After he had nearly recovered and had left the hospital he fell on the sidewalk and again broke the same leg in the same place.

THE FIGHT WAS STOPPED.—About 7 30 o'clock last night, as Officer Watson was returning to his home in a street car on Third street, his attention was attracted by a large crowd standing in front of the International hotel. In a very short time about 200 people had congregated, and when the officer passed into the thickest of the fray he discovered two men engaged in a fistic encounter. Being pushed by the crowd first from one side and then from the other the battle was waged under some difficulties and neither contestant was doing any injury to the other. Officers Watson and Foss took the two men to the city jail and booked them for being disorderly by fighting. The men gave their names as Michael Galvin and William Collins.

PORTLAND IN HARPER'S WEEKLY.—A four page supplement of Harper's Weekly of the issue of April 6 is devoted to The Western Portland. The illustrations and the descriptive text would give a better idea of Portland of to-day had the material been freshly gathered. But as the material is almost three years old, but justice is done to the city of to-day. Nevertheless the work is well executed artistically and the descriptive text is written with care and in good style. Mr Edwards Roberts the writer was here about three years ago and will be remembered by man of our citizens as a young gentleman of culture and of pleasing manners.

HE IS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED.—Mr S O Chill of Rensselaer Falls, New York arrived in Portland a few weeks ago with his family. He came to spy out the country, and is favorably impressed with what he has seen. He has had experience in farming and if a suitable opportunity offers he may be induced to settle here. Should he do so many others from his neighborhood will doubtless follow him. He will return to Rensselaer in a day or two. He has friends here in the persons of Rev C A Rockwood and Mrs Rockwood of Willsburg and a number of years ago was a parishioner of Mr Rockwood's in New York state.

WORK AT THE LOCKS.—Work is progressing favorably at the Cascade Locks. The contractor for granite has not been able to deliver it as fast as was expected on account of damages by freshet to the road between the quarry and the railroad, but these have been repaired and he expects to send along a big lot of granite during the next few weeks. Lieutenant Burr who has had supervision of the work under Major T H Handbury is now East on leave of absence and will take occasion to visit the great locks under construction at Sault Ste Marie, the locks at Keokuk and those on the Ohio river.

A BRIEF VACATION.—Rev B F Rattray, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church of this city, leaves this evening on the steamer for San Francisco to visit his family in Oakland and will be absent about three weeks. During his absence the church edifice is to be put in thorough repair inside, painted, kalsomined, pewed and stained glass windows are to be added. Upon his return a reopening service will be held. During Mr Rattray's ministry with this church, since last November a season of prosperity has been enjoyed and a good and permanent congregation gathered.

FUNERAL OF CONNELLAN.—The remains of M E Connellan who came to his death under peculiar circumstances in Seattle were received at the undertaking rooms of George H Rivers at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral was held at the cathedral at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the body was buried in Mount Calvary cemetery. The deceased having been a member of Portland Lodge No 27 A O U W a beneficiary of $2000 is left for his heirs. Connellan has no relatives here and the legacy will be sent to his brother in New York city.

FRENCH RESIDENTS WILL CELEBRATE.—The French residents met last night and decided to celebrate the fall of the Bastile July 14. The following officers of the day were elected: First honorary president A Labbe, second honorary president ... Tyson, president J Godart, vice president ... Dupart, treasurer J Loint, secretary ... Levy. The following persons were elected members of the society: J Juston, F Terrameese, G Dupont, P Haussman, B Labbe, E Shydecker, E Vautier.

LOCATING GERMAN FAMILIES.—Rev Dr Dietrich of this city, pastor of the German Lutheran church, left for Dakota last evening to join his family. He will bring back with him several German families who propose to make their homes here or in Portland. Dr Dietrich has already located several of his people in the Peninsular addition to East Portland. Mr L D Brown has donated several lots for a Lutheran church and a church will be built there in the near future.

SUPPLIES FROM PORTLAND.—Mr C C McCord agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in this city has received orders to send over a large amount of supplies for the company's China steamers. They require a large number of turkeys, fowl, ducks, eggs and all that sort of thing. There is a market on the Sound, at Vancouver and Victoria for a great deal of Oregon produce and the price paid for poultry now should convince farmers that there is money in raising it.

PARK LOT IMPROVEMENTS.—The block bounded by East Park and West Park and ... the most northerly in park row has been filled and leveled to correspond with the general grade of the ... The grass sowed some time ago ... up and by fall should the ... reasonably expected that the square will have a firm and well matured lawn.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL.—... the man who was taken to the city jail Sunday night to have two deep scalp wounds sewed up was yesterday morning removed to Good Samaritan hospital. His injuries though ... are not very dangerous and after a week or ... he will come out all right. He still refuses to say how he came by his injuries.

PRETTY PROMENADE.—The fine new sidewalks along the streets of Edendale, enclosing the fresh clover grown lots furnish a beautiful promenade to hundreds of people. All who see Edendale join in its praises. It sells not by wind but by sheer merit. Take the Sunnyside motor to Edendale and then back again to 103 Second street.

MRS. SNYDER LIBERATED.—Mrs Jennie Snyder who has been serving a ten days sentence in the county jail for contempt of court for refusing to testify when the Brown Buckle stabbing case was before the police court a few days ago has been released in order to care for her young son who is dying of consumption.

FROM BOISE.—Mr F Mays who has just returned from a visit to Boise valley reports the country in that section pretty well dried up. He brought down 250 head of fine beef cattle and reports about as many more here ... says he will have no trouble in finding plenty of good beef to last until grass fed beef comes in.

TWENTY SHADES in silk finished forty six inches wide Henriettas at 85 cents and broadcloths at $1 25 besides Japanese silks at 85 cents are the inducements offered at J Selling & Co to-day.

HAS THE CONTRACT.—Mr R Leaman who has the contract for the lighthouse at Cape Mears, has gone down there taking along his family, who will stay at Mrs Hawthurst's on the spit.

PRESENTED A BUGGY.—Slaver & Walker have presented Rev Father Gibney a buggy worth $150 which will be one of the prizes at the St. Patrick's church bazar to be held next month.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF A BARGAIN.—The fine tract of land for sale at Oregon City by Campbell & Brush has been photographed. Views can be seen in their window, No. 8 Stark street.

THE ELECTRIC CLOCK EXHIBITION.—This exhibition continues to be the popular family resort. Yesterday afternoon the exhibition room was crowded with ladies and children. Wednesday eve the great stereopticon will be introduced giving a tour around the world. All the other features will be retained.

STEEL BRIDGE COMPLETED.—Mr C W Johnson, superintendent of the O R & N Co, received a dispatch yesterday informing him that the steel bridge across the Snake river is completed, and all trains will pass over it to-day. There will be no further trouble about steamboats passing up and down the river.

C B OF C MONTHLY MEETING

The Institution Well Patronized—More Work Wanted

The regular monthly meeting of the City Board of Charities was held in the rooms of the board, No 141 Morrison street last night. There were present President T N Strong, Judge George H Williams, John Klosterman, Charles E Ladd, J C Flanders and Secretary W G Steel.

The meeting was called to order at 7 30 o'clock and after the regular routine of business of the board was disposed of the work of the past month was briefly reviewed and the needs and present wants of the society informally discussed.

The office is well patronized and the secretary is kept busy investigating new cases and attending to the wants of the numerous applicants. At present there are more applicants than work, and the public are again reminded to notify the secretary whenever they have any work they desire done. Several families were reported in destitute circumstances. Small houses and rooms are hard to find and at times it is very difficult to procure accommodations for newly arrived destitute families.

The board would also respectfully call the attention of the public to the fact that old and broken furniture will be gladly accepted at all times. People having such furniture stored away in closets, sheds, or garrets and having no use for it can have it taken away by dropping a card to the secretary at No 141 Morrison street and do an act of charity at the same time.

RIVERS, BAYS AND BARS.

Captain W Young's Report—Appropriation for Improvement Recommended

Under the provisions of an act of congress passed last August, Captain W Young, of the United States engineers, visited the bays and rivers along the coast of this state and made a report to the chief of engineers of such as he considered it advisable to make improvements on.

Those on which he reported favorably were as follows:

The bay and bar at the mouth of the Siuslaw river.

The Umpqua from Scottsburg to its mouth.

Young's river and the Klaskanine.

Nehalem bay and bar.

Captain Young has received information that the sum of $2500 has been appropriated for making a preliminary survey and preparing projects for the improvement of these places and the prospect is that there will be a big appropriation in the near future for carrying out the projected improvements.

The bay at Siuslaw promises to make a snug harbor, and the people of Eugene have already a scheme on foot for building a railroad to this point.

In regard to the reports to be made the instructions require that they embrace in addition to the project with estimate of the cost of improvements proper to be made such information concerning the commercial importance present and prospective of the improvement contemplated thereby and such general commercial statistics as it is possible to procure.

A POINT IN HISTORY

PORTLAND, Or, April 8

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have read with much pleasure your report of Mr C H Dodd's excellent lecture on the Evidences of Christianity on Practical Life delivered in Trinity church last evening. In regard to one point however he is in error. In speaking of Bishop Scott he has evidently got him confounded with the Rev St M Fackler the first missionary of the Episcopal church in Oregon. He speaks of the bishop's voyage East and says that a contagious disease broke out on board the vessel, that the bishop worked day and night to relieve the wants of the sick and dying and that he finally contracted the disease and died before he reached his Southern home.

Now if Mr Dodd had said this of the Rev Mr Fackler it would have been true, for the cholera broke out on board of the vessel on which he was. He visited the sick, nursed them, read the burial service over the dead, contracted the disease, died and was buried at Key West, Fla. But such was not the case of Bishop Scott. Bishop Scott died in New York city of Bright's disease of the kidney, a few days after his arrival.

The lesson that Mr Dodd desires to draw from the life of Bishop Scott is as true as the circumstances he relates of him were true, for the bishop was just such a man. He was a man who never shrank from the performance of any duty, no matter to what perils or losses it might call him. All that knew the Rev Mr Fackler can say the same thing of him in the most emphatic manner. He was one of the most self-forgetful and self-sacrificing men the writer has ever known. In Boise City, Idaho, the parish church is named in honor of him because of his untiring labors on behalf of the poor and suffering immigrants, and his conduct on board of the vessel on which he contracted the fatal disease was in keeping with the whole spirit and temper of his noble life.

WALTER TOBEY'S BODY FOUND.

A Carrolton, W T, dispatch in yesterday's OREGONIAN noted the finding of the body of an unknown man on Cottonwood Island. The best clue to the identity of the man was this note:

March 7 1889

Henry—The captain is opposed to your coming here. I will not make any change. HI

Mr Edward Wright, engineer of the steamer Irvine, told an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday that he wrote the note and gave it to Walter Tobey, a waiter on the boat, to hand to a man named Henry Keith, in case he came to the boat. Keith did not come and Tobey fell off the boat when it was near Kalama.

PERSONAL

Mr Mark Levy returned yesterday from a visit to Chicago. He brought samples of New Orleans cucumbers and of a new Florida fruit resembling a large orange, but called grape fruit.

Mr. O W Taylor, assistant train dispatcher of the Southern Pacific railroad, is taking a short vacation up the road. Besides other places, he will visit Roseburg and Ashland, and will spend several days at Oregon City, where his parents reside.

A PROHIBITION PETTIFOGGER

Postmaster Wanamaker, in his recent Sunday argument for the adoption of a prohibition constitutional amendment in Pennsylvania, opened his address by reading a portion of the fifth chapter of Ephesians beginning with the verse "be not drunk with wine." This is the excellent counsel of the great apostle who yet advised Timothy "to take a little wine for the stomach's sake," and it had no more force as an argument to prohibit the sale of wine than the sound advice, "Be not gluttonous," would be [illegible] for prohibiting the sale of food. There is something droll to contemplate in the [illegible] and mental condition of a man who can read his Bible so [illegible] as to quote text in favor of temperance [illegible] in favor of prohibition [illegible] every good thing [illegible] who [illegible] every good thing. But [illegible] Mr. Wanamaker at his word it is an easy thing to confound him out of his own Bible which he absurdly quotes as justification for the prohibitory amendment.

In the teaching of the Bible and the example of [illegible] the use of wine as a beverage and the use of wine for sacramental purposes. The use of wine to the extent of drunkenness is denounced in the Bible as sin. On the other hand prohibition peremptorily forbids the manufacture and sale for use as a beverage of any wine or other alcoholic liquor, whether fermented or distilled, and punishes as a crime that which the Bible by the precept and example of Christ sanctions and recommends. Legal prohibition is in direct conflict with both the letter and spirit of the Bible as well as the recorded example of the founder of Christianity. When the wedding wine at Cana in Galilee was exhausted Christ is reported to have changed the water into wine and distributed it for use as a beverage to the guests.

The wines of the scripture were intoxicating, made men "drunk," "overcame strong men," caused "the mighty to shout," and "the priests and the prophets to err"—when used to excess, and in the Old and the New Testaments such abuse of wine is strongly discouraged and denounced, but nowhere in the Old or New Testament is the use, as distinguished from the abuse of wine, denounced by the precept or example of holy men and teachers from Moses down to Jesus and Paul. Abraham is presented with wine by Melchisedek, the priest of the Most High God.

The Psalms describe wine as bestowed by God to make glad the heart of man." The Proverbs commend it to him who is heavy of heart that he may drink and forget his poverty and remember his sorrow no more. But this certainly is bad advice. The strong wines were specifically designated by God as the wines that shall be used as drink offerings offered to himself. In Matthew, Mark and Luke Jesus spoke of wine as good in itself and proper to be used. He said that old wine was better than new, and clearly intimated that he himself used it as a beverage and encouraged the decent use of it by others, though he never hesitated to denounce drunkenness.

It is clear that if there be any convincing argument in favor of prohibition as sound public policy Brother Wanamaker cannot find them in texts of Scripture. He can find whole [illegible] denunciation of drunkenness [illegible] wine in the Bible but he can find free and full approval of it [illegible] temperate [illegible].

The Bible argument as to prohibition is none of our [illegible] and we consider it as worthless as any other attempt to square the [illegible] of modern civilization by the [illegible] and habit of the Hebrews. But [illegible] Wanamaker has taken his appeal for prohibition to the Bible for justification and it must [illegible] by it.

[illegible] of the prohibition argument in New England [illegible] is found in the [illegible] to prove to farmers that they can sell their [illegible] the alcohol has appeared in the [illegible]. Everybody knows that in its [illegible] state nobody wants cider, and [illegible] who use hard cider and everybody knows that the intoxicating properties of cider are quite as great as those of lager beer.

THAT MILLS BILL

The democratic organs have no other time [illegible] but the worn out one of the Mills bill [illegible] the people of the United States passed sentence on when they defeated Grover Cleveland. They pronounced for [illegible] and the Mills bill [illegible]. The senate bill modified the tariff and [illegible] things of [illegible] the defeat [illegible] it democrats [illegible] that all parties know [illegible] they pretend to believe [illegible] anything the senate could devise. The Mills bill favored the South at the expense of the North and was generally [illegible] republicans will take the earliest opportunity to mature a modified and reformed tariff [illegible] to present conditions and the country will recognize, when the [illegible] perfected, that it will meet the wants of the present time [illegible] [illegible] duty [illegible].

It is not [illegible] important a measure in a short time. It is necessary to [illegible] of commerce and all the various [illegible] of the country to know how [illegible] legislation will affect the [illegible] important interests and trade [illegible] unreasonably tax [illegible] producer of our own country [illegible] the tariff [illegible] The [illegible] districts [illegible] and [illegible] the experts [illegible] of the two [illegible] has caused [illegible] inquiry into all such [illegible] for [illegible] it would not be difficult to frame [illegible] that will answer the [illegible] done we may expect [illegible] meet in December [illegible] to the urgent needs [illegible] United States. The fate of [illegible] depends on success [illegible] the people [illegible] In these circumstances [illegible] The [illegible] the present [illegible] the [illegible] of the party to foster a general prosperity while protecting manufactures.

"Thump-rattlety bang" went the piano. "What are you trying to play, Jane?" called out her father from the next room. "It's an exercise from my new instruction book, 'First steps in Music,'" she answered. "Well, I thought you were playing with your feet," he said, "but don't step so heavy on the keys, it disturbs my thought."—Munsey's Weekly.

PASCO, THE FUTURE GREAT.

Two Mighty Rivers Give it a Most Magnificent Water Front.

Its Location, Climate, Soil and Attractiveness to the Investor and Homeseeker—A Certainty of Commercial Importance

Pasco and Franklin county are [illegible] but dwelling upon the [illegible] and that [illegible] of rivers the Columbia [illegible] people have great hopes. They are fond [illegible] wherever a city has been built at [illegible] of rivers there are [illegible] and surely they have [illegible] to justify a hope for greatness as Des Moines [illegible] in the Raccoon and Des Moines rivers [illegible] and several other large cities [illegible] to grow to large dimensions [illegible] of two rivers. And are [illegible] up [illegible] fork of two of the mightiest streams [illegible] this continent?

In no way is Pasco indebted to the Northern Pacific railroad. [illegible] city of Dayton [illegible] has thrown [illegible] on the efforts to put forward [illegible] so the people [illegible] but [illegible] advertising [illegible] through [illegible] until now [illegible] and a new era has dawned.

The Northern Pacific is [illegible] something for [illegible] Spokane Falls are coming to its aid, and [illegible] Portland will [illegible] Walla Walla [illegible] and [illegible] There is no [illegible] reasonable to expect to [illegible] more situated as it is upon [illegible] of the great [illegible] in the heart of the great [illegible] wealth—the Inland Empire [illegible] from these great civilizations [illegible] all kinds of manufacturing industries and lines of business will be established here. The climate is [illegible] and longevity, and is [illegible] favored with all those conditions and attributes [illegible] of permanent residents or the attention of those bent upon business speculation.

For months the trains moving in different directions have experienced great difficulty in finding [illegible] and a great amount of side tracking, backing up, shunting, etc., has had to be resorted to, and great delay to trains has been occasioned. But the officials of the company saw that it was imperative to lay more tracks, and at this writing many extra men are employed grading and laying several extra side tracks, for all trains lead to Pasco about [illegible] each evening making the place appear like a new Ogden or Kansas City.

It has been given out the present week that the company had determined upon the erection of a three-story brick hotel at the depot. A brick roundhouse and limited repair shops are also assured for the place, and altogether there may be reason to be thankful to the Northern Pacific.

The O. & W. T. railroad, popularly known as Hunt's road, has abandoned Wallula as a transfer station and the trains of the system run through from Pendleton and Walla Walla to Pasco, making connection with the main line without transfer or delay.

Articles of incorporation of the Pasco Goldendale Vancouver & Portland Railway Company have been filed with the auditor at Olympia. The principal place of business of the new company will be in the town of Pasco. Capital stock $2,000,000. It is safe to predict that within two years twelve or more railroads will reach Pasco from different parts of this and adjoining states.

The old town of Kennewick has met the fate of her sister, Ainsworth, and has been dismantled. The timber used in building in both towns deceased have been brought and used in the construction of dwellings on the outskirts of this town.

A fine bed of fire clay has been discovered in Kennewick. A company has been formed and active operations will begin soon for the manufacture of brick. As a Walla Walla paper [illegible] recently, Pasco will become the great brick supply depot, and be prosperous even though she does not get the capital.

A trio of Spokane merchants were here a few days ago and invested generously in lots in the business part of town. Several lots were recently sold to merchants of Tacoma and all who have purchased agree that Pasco will ultimately be an important jobbing center.

The steamer Thomas L. Nixon left the wharf on Tuesday for Lewiston, Idaho, and will soon return with a cargo of grain which will be stored [illegible] until there is enough to make up [illegible] load of several [illegible].

The steamer Frederick K. Billings is being put in thorough repair for a summer's work on the Snake and Columbia rivers. When there is eight feet or more of water in the river which will soon be, she will [illegible] for points where the grain is stored. The Billings is a staunch steamer 203 feet keel [illegible] depth of hold [illegible] steel boiler [illegible] cylinder 8-foot stroke.

The steamer [illegible] built at Pasco in 1888 for the Columbia, and one of them made several trips [illegible] Okanogan mines [illegible] miles distant.

The drill of the artesian well is down over 400 feet. Several veins of water have been found, but what is wanted is a flowing stream. If the money appropriated by the territory gives out before flowing water is reached a collection will be taken up and the drilling kept going, even though we have to go to China. Our citizens will never suffer the enterprise to prove a boomerang to the town.

Captain W. P. Gray, chief owner of this town site, and Colonel [illegible] Money, [illegible] of the [illegible], are doing Portland and the cities of the Sound. They are men of [illegible] capital [illegible] great projects for this place. They are public spirited gentlemen and [illegible] for the town's progress, and like Yankee [illegible] never sleep.

Young trees are blooming. The rivers are rising. Gardens are being planted in [illegible] street [illegible] depot, to show productiveness of soil. Lots are being sold every day. But everybody is waiting for everybody to begin building. A number of deaf and dumb railroad surveyors are moving in and around town, carrying tripods, tapes and [illegible] looking instruments. Twelve, and often as many as fifteen locomotives can be counted upon the tracks here.

The winter is most [illegible] sufficiently cleared away to enable the most sagacious observers to form a fairly good estimate of our country and a drive out into the bunch grass section around about us is refreshing. Pasco has the location, a great future lies before her. It is in the air and is rapidly becoming visible and palpable to all. We have the finest climate in the world, with cheerful sunlight all the year round. In this [illegible] the inhabitants are taken with a wild delight and the burning sage brush offers incense to the [illegible].

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Kossuth is dying. He has lived to a good old age and made his mark upon the world and can [illegible] bodily for the old frame must be [illegible] historically he will live and live as long as history endures. There are some men who are not born to die. Cycles may fade away, eclipse of ages and bronze crumble and empires come and go, but there are men whose lives mark epochs in the career of man, whose deeds are of such heroic mold that they will live in human story and their fame be sung long after Thebes and Karnak shall crumble to decay.

Henry George's paper charges all the troubles of the world upon the protective tariff of the United States. The latest discovery is that the copper trust is one of the twins of misfortune born of the American tariff. It costs little to say a thing [illegible] Mr. George says so and so often [illegible] to believe it for himself. He says "Indirectly, too, the whole gigantic operation may be traced to our own protective tariff." While Mr. George has his hand in he may as well make a loophole of escape for Delesse's [illegible] Panama canal by charging it to the same cause. He could also stretch his ingenuity so as to throw protection over Boulanger, who is not so much a favorite of the gods as he was a few weeks ago. France is after him and nothing but American protection can [illegible] him.

PARAGRAPHS ABOUT PERSONS

Grover Cleveland has been appointed by a New York court one of the commissioners of estimate and assessment who shall buy the land for High Bridge park, one of the city's new breathing places. The pay is $4 a day. Lawyers say that rather than fail in courtesy to the court an appointee generally accepts.

In paying a tribute to the late Sidney Bartlett, of Boston, Judge Holmes cited this extraordinary reminiscence from a letter written by the deceased: "Demon [illegible] in 1818 [illegible] saw him and talked with him. He talked with Elder Faunce, who talked with the Pilgrims and is said to have pointed out the rock." Only three lives, one of them but just passed away, between us and the men of the Mayflower.

THE CAPTORS OF JEFF DAVIS

Who They Were and the Sums of Money Paid Them.

New York Evening Post.

Cooper Knout, one of the original captors of Jefferson Davis, has been telling the Philadelphia Press about the rewards [illegible] to the [illegible] affair. Cooper represents the number of captors as fourteen—all of the Fourth Michigan cavalry—and the amount appropriated for each at $1,000. He says that he not only [illegible] that he would like to know who [illegible] value of [illegible] If Cooper was [illegible] fourteen [illegible] would [illegible] entitled to [illegible] than that of other [illegible] because he was there. Yet the fact is that President Andrew Johnson issued on May [illegible] a proclamation offering $100,000 for the arrest of Davis. [illegible] November [illegible] executive order [illegible] General order No. [illegible] was issued notifying all persons claiming to rewards for the apprehension of [illegible] Davis to file their claims and their proofs with the adjutant general, and that on July [illegible] the sum of [illegible] was appropriated by congress to be distributed among those [illegible]. All the claims [illegible] statute at large [illegible] page 402. Of this sum $3,000 was [illegible] to each of the following officers: James H. Wilson, of Illinois, the major general of volunteers; Benjamin D. Pritchard, of Michigan, lieutenant colonel of the Fourth Michigan cavalry; Henry [illegible] of [illegible] lieutenant colonel of the First Wisconsin cavalry, and [illegible] of Iowa, late captain of the [illegible]. The remaining $85,000 were [illegible] officers and privates in the [illegible] in proportion to the pay [illegible] were respectively entitled at the time of their capture. There were of the Fourth Michigan cavalry fifty seven officers and ninety-six others of the First Wisconsin fifteen officers and sixty-two men and of the detachment accompanying Yeoman eight officers and eleven men. But, besides these there were eight whose names were not known and who were described only by their regiments. So the amount was divided pro rata among about [illegible] claimants. In 1870 the treasury settled with the bulk of these, but as there were some mistakes to correct and omissions to supply the work has been slow, the last anonymous claimant having been paid only within the last year.

THE EIFFEL TOWER

A Perilous Ascent before It Was Finished—A Restaurant as High as the Tower of Notre Dame

Correspondence New York Post.

Paris, April [illegible] The Eiffel tower, [illegible] feet high, was completed yesterday. [illegible] to the [illegible] Tuesday I ascended with M. [illegible] Max [illegible] and Miss Maxse [illegible] who was the first lady to reach the [illegible].

At 1000 feet the winding iron stair stopped [illegible] [illegible] Notre Dame. The tower [illegible] visible in small parts of [illegible] gardens as it whistled [illegible].

The exposition is still in great unreadiness. Immense cases from the United States are [illegible] ready for unpacking, but no exhibits are in sight. After France, England will be the chief exhibitor. The building is one of unprecedented solidity and extent. The Champ de Mars is connected with the Invalides Esplanade by an extensive annex. The Hall of Machines is a magnificent expanse of glass.

IN BEHALF OF SILVER.

An Address That Presents Some New and Interesting Facts

Production of Silver Not Greater, But Less, in Proportion Than the Production of Gold

Deseret News, Salt Lake City.

A large gathering of mining men [illegible] in the [illegible] of the [illegible] in Chamber of Commerce [illegible] President McCornick [illegible] M. Michels of Wa[illegible] from the [illegible] mining [illegible] men and [illegible].

[illegible]

On [illegible] Sir [illegible] Denmark [illegible] and [illegible] rate of [illegible] allow [illegible] upon such [illegible] [illegible].

[illegible] STATEMENTS [illegible] SILVER

To injure the [illegible] Mr. Michels [illegible] and Adolph Soetbeer [illegible] otherwise [illegible] false [illegible] that during the period of twenty [illegible] 1861 to 1880 the production [illegible] increased, and the production of silver [illegible].

Mr. Michels, by [illegible] statistics and which [illegible] the United [illegible] 1861 to 1880 was [illegible] during [illegible] than we did during [illegible] years, 1851 to 1860 which [illegible] of California, beginning with 1849, and Australia in 1852.

Mr. Michels stated that when the Brazilian and Bolivian mines poured forth their wealth in the eighteenth century, during the period of twenty years, when their best returns were realized, they produced, in avoirdupois weight, from 1741 to 1760 Gold, 1,058 [illegible] pounds; silver [illegible] pounds; from 1851 to 1870 the [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] Gold [illegible] pounds. Thus [illegible] cause of the production of [illegible] Australia [illegible] and silver from [illegible] pounds or a product [illegible] times that of gold [illegible] silver. Thus were [illegible] of the gold [illegible] a [illegible].

[illegible]

In [illegible] there [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] silver [illegible] at that period [illegible] 000 tons.

In 1850 [illegible] California [illegible] yields [illegible] silver was

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

RECAPITULATION

In 1850 [illegible] silver 148 [illegible] tons
In 1888 [illegible] tons

[illegible]

In the sixteenth century [illegible] was worth as high as [illegible] time in London, [illegible] to $1 [illegible] in this country, yet the production during that [illegible] was [illegible] pounds of gold and [illegible] pounds of silver or in proportion as 1 to [illegible].

The [illegible] proportion of the production of silver to gold was [illegible] century when [illegible] pounds of gold [illegible] ounce equal to $1.8 per ounce [illegible].

During the present century from 1801 to January 1888, the production [illegible] pounds of gold and [illegible] pounds of silver, or in proportion as 1 to 12. Yet to-day the price of silver is about 93 cents per ounce [illegible] at [illegible] per cent [illegible]. This as Mr. Michels very justly stated was as 1 to 2, yet our production [illegible] only [illegible] that if the supply [illegible] standard advocates [illegible] for silver [illegible] ought to be $1.29 per [illegible] here.

The quantity of silver to-day produced in the world is only [illegible] times that of the gold production, whereas in 1850 the quantity of silver produced was thirty two times that of the gold production in weight. And strange as it may appear, silver bullion has fallen in price. If the price of the precious metals depended on the relative value of the existing supply [illegible] bullion, silver should be worth [illegible] per ounce, or 7[illegible] per cent more than in 1850. In fact considering the low ruling rate of 93 cents per ounce and comparing the present conditions with 1850, our present stock of silver ought to be over 40,000 tons in lieu of 180 [illegible] tons. [illegible] as Mr. [illegible] clearly stated and proved the fall in the [illegible] of silver is the result of statute laws and not due to natural causes.

THE COTTON QUESTION

Mr. Michels who has visited the Southern cotton states, gave facts to show that the now ruling low price of cotton was due to the low price of silver bullion. He stated that in 1873 [illegible] in India was 11[illegible] per pound and to-day it was [illegible] per pound, also while the price of cotton in the United States [illegible] loss per pound to the demonetization of silver and during last [illegible] the average price for cotton was down to 10 cents, just the difference between the exchange in India council bills issued by the Bank of England on the exchequer of India and mostly covered by our silver at from 33 to 34 per cent discount.

THE WHEAT QUESTION

As soon as the act of 18[illegible] is passed by congress, Great Britain demands [illegible] gold in India and passes a law which [illegible] gold [illegible] after shall not be a legal tender throughout the Indian empire, [illegible] all [illegible] payment on account.

The duty on export of wheat from India was simultaneously abolished and thus [illegible] export of wheat from India in [illegible] from [illegible] bushels increased to over forty million bushels last year or actually over 400 bushels to every [illegible] in 1874.

What the price of wheat in [illegible] the [illegible] only changed from $1 06 per bushel in [illegible] to $1 0[illegible].

[illegible] also very [illegible] interests [illegible] the now [illegible].

THE [illegible] OF [illegible]

He also vividly and feelingly exposed [illegible] of silver [illegible] of Mexico [illegible] El Paso, Texas [illegible] there [illegible] mint of [illegible] smelting works in Laredo, Texas, and Nogales, Arizona, are the natural outlet [illegible] that district [illegible]. The government is thus deprived of $[illegible] on every ton of lead thus [illegible] [illegible] the collector of customs and a gun [illegible] as well as the collection of duty thus wrongly withheld [illegible].

Mr. Michels closed with heartfelt thanks to the people of Utah for the courtesy and facility extended him in the pursuit of his duties as directed by the United States senate, and extended especial thanks to Mr. W. B. James, the president of the Ore Producers' Association of Utah and its secretary, W. G. Van Horn, esq.

He—Where's my bootjack, Maria? She—Oh must you use it? What a pity! I've covered it with pink satin and painted a spray of wild flowers on it, and hung it up in the parlor by long satin bows. What a pity one can't be artistic without having everything spoiled.—Judge.

NEW YORK MARKET REVIEW

NEW YORK April 8—Nothing of sensational character has developed in commercial affairs during the past week The alarm which arose from the complications in French finances has subsided and there are no threatened ruptures to industrial [illegible]

The full effect of the shipments of currency to the interior last week and the calling of loans preparatory to the April disbursements was felt on Monday, when call money rose to 10 per cent Subsequently there was a gradual relaxation, and before the close the rates of interest settled down to 3@4 per cent.

On Friday exchange on New York at Chicago was quoted at par and at St. Louis at 40 cents premium, which indicates a let up in the drain to the West The outlook for money therefore points in the direction of ease for some time to come

SYSTEMATIC FROG FARMING

A French Syndicate to Go Into the Business on San Joaquin River

SAN FRANCISCO April 7—Near Antioch about fifty miles up the bay from this city it is learned that a representative of a French syndicate recently visited the island which forms the north bank of the San Joaquin river at the point named and was unable to suppress his enthusiasm over the island s adaptability for frog farming Said a man interested

There never has been a systematic endeavor to supply the frog market of this coast nor of the Atlantic coast, and the representative of the French syndicate is confident that with that proper management and careful propagation frogs on Sherman island and other islands of the group (West and Kimball islands) can supply for many years not only the markets of America but also those of Europe

It is estimated that in this city at least 1000 frogs are consumed daily at an average cost of 50 cents each and were the supply five times as great it could not equal the demand In New York city a daily supply of 4,000 pounds only suffices to whet the appetite of epicures while in other leading cities of the East the supply is even less adequate to meet the demand and this too in face of the fact that the love for frog meat is on the increase among all classes while gourmets are willing to pay almost any price for the large green bullfrog

The Eastern market now depends principally on Canada for its supply the frogs being shipped alive in large baskets between layers of damp moss and grass In the same manner they are also shipped alive to Europe the frogs arriving at their destination free from fever and in choice condition

THE HATFIELDS AND M'COYS

One of the Former Confesses to Having Committed a Series of Murders

WHEELING W Va April 8—Elliott Hatfield one of the participants in the Hatfield McCoy feud in jail now in Kentucky has confessed to the effects concerning the murder of three of the McCoy brothers Talbert Farley and Randolph The Hatfields captured them tied them to a tree and gave them time to say their prayer John Hatfield then shot Farley Anse Hatfield killed Talbert and Alex Musser killed Randolph All the others also emptied their weapons into the bodies of the victims Then W ll Hatfield made all of the band swear to take the life of the first man who divulged the names of those who were along Hatfield further said that he and Tom Wallace killed Jeff McCoy and gave the particulars of the brutal murder of Tallipero and Alvin McCoy in 1880 The Hatfield gang surrounded the house which they fired They shot the girl while she was trying to extinguish the flames Both Ellison and John Hatfield claimed to have shot Alvin

IN FAVOR OF SCRIP LOCATIONS

An Important Decision by the Land Office in Michigan

MARQUETTE Mich April 8—The register and receiver of the land office for this district has decided in favor of scrip locations on the lands within the indemnity limits of the old Marquette, Houghton and Ontonagon railroad The grant was recently declared forfeited and the homestead and pre emption settlers claimed the lands in dispute by virtue of legal entry thereon as soon as they were thrown open to entry as against the scrip settlers who had previously applied for the lands The local officials held that the applications of the scrip parties constituted an appropriation of the lands in dispute, which took effect as soon as they became subject to entry The finding will be appealed from and the contest transferred to Washington The decision affects lands on which there is pine estimated to be worth not less than $5 000 000 The hearing in these cases has occupied the attention of the register and receiver from the 11th of March until the 6th of this month and there has been not less than a dozen lawyers engaged in conducting t

AN INTERESTING DECISION

Concerning the Bonds of the City of Watertown, Wisconsin

WASHINGTON April 8—The supreme court rendered an interesting decision to-day The town of Watertown Wisconsin issued bonds and its charter provides that all suits against the city must be by service on its mayor Certain bondholders brought suit but were unable to secure service on the mayor because he resigned as soon as elected Finally the city entered voluntarily an appearance and set up the statute of limitations The plaintiffs demurred claiming they tried to begin suit in season but were debarred by a conspiracy to defraud The Wisconsin court held that the suits were not properly begun within the statutory time and gave judgment in favor of the city The supreme court affirms this judgment on the ground that it is a matter purely within the state s jurisdiction and the only remedy is by an appeal to the state legislature

TO EVICT SETTLERS.

The Disagreeable Duty of the Iowa United States Marshal

FORT DODGE Iowa April 8—A posse of twenty five men will arrive from Des Moines this evening to assist the United States marshal in the evictions which will take place as soon as the rain ceases The settlers say that if the coming investigation sustains the claimant, immediate possession will be given without the necessity for recourse to eviction President Boynton of the Settlers' Union, disclaims the responsibility for the acts of violence toward the evictors and says they are the work of individuals driven to desperation by their wrongs

The Savannah Fire.

SAVANNAH, April 8—A careful estimate put the loss by Saturday night's fire at $700 000 The heaviest losses are The Independent Presbyterian church $170,000 the Guards' armory, $60 000 a furniture store $61 000 co operative store $49 000 Odd Fellows hall $35 000

Reforms Need More Than a Day

To bring them about and are always more complete and lasting when they proceed with steady regularity to a consummation Few of the observant among us can have failed to notice that permanently healthful changes in the human system are not wrought by abrupt and violent means and that those are the most salutary medicines which are progressive Hostetter s Stomach Bitters is the chief of these. Dyspepsia a disease of obstinate character is obliterated by it

ANOTHER GRANT COUNTY MURDER

John Bronkee Assassinated While Sleeping—Pete Sullivan, the Murderer, Gives Himself Up

Grant County News

At an early hour Monday forenoon a man known as Peter Sullivan came into town and surrendered himself to the authorities, unconcernedly apprising them of the fact that he had killed John Bronkee at his claim on Pine creek. The man was at once taken charge of and after summoning a jury acting coroner N Rulison with the jury repaired to the scene of the killing some twelve [illegible] east of town where the deceased was found lying upon his bed with three gunshot wounds in his body made from a Winchester rifle, one entering the spine the bullet ranging upward one in the left side the bullet coming out of the right shoulder and a glancing shot in the left breast either one of the first two being fatal

It appears that the young man Bronkee had taken a claim of government land and was living upon it, and this man Sullivan who had been in the neighborhood had been stopping with him all winter, having been furnished board and lodging by Bronkee because he had nowhere else to go It is simply another illustration of the serpent stinging the breast that warmed it, for from facts elicited at the inquest and the statements of neighbors intimate with both parties, it could be made nothing else than a cold blooded murder the probable incentive being the fact that Bronkee had previously informed Sullivan that unless he would assist him in his work he must leave the place by the 1st of April or else settle for his board because he did not feel able to board him any longer for nothing Sullivan is said to have made the remark that he would leave the first of April or else 'settle' with his host. The sequel proves too plain that he settled with him From the evidence it appears that Bronkee was lying upon his bed, when Sullivan arose from his bed on the opposite side of the room and fired the fatal shots that sent a human soul into eternity, perhaps while wrapt in slumber There was no evidence of a struggle in the cabin and it is probable that the unfortunate man was shot in the back as he lay sleeping on his side and naturally fell over on his back to receive the other ball through his heart. After the horrible deed Sullivan took breakfast at Fred Horsley's place and informed them that there was a dead Dutchman up the creek, and that he had killed him He left his rifle there which was broken off at the stock, and came on to town.

A VERY IMPORTANT MOVE.

The Idaho To Be Placed on the Portland-Puget Sound Route.

O R & N Co Have Completed Arrangements—A Feeder for Portland—Three Trips Per Month—Direct Communication

Mr B Campbell general freight agent of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he completed arrangements with the Pacific Coast Steamship Company for placing the steamship Idaho on the route between Portland and Puget sound Owing to the large increase in the freight business between this city and the Sound the company have found it necessary to establish direct communication independent of the lines of any other company This matter has been under consideration by the managers of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company for some time and they have seriously contemplated building a road from this city to some point on the Sound

As there are various points on the road between here and Cape Flattery and also between that place and Port Townsend which the company desires to accommodate the plan of building a road was deemed hardly practicable so it was decided that Portland and the Puget sound district should be connected by a steamship line and during his visit to San Francisco Mr Campbell completed the necessary arrangements

"It is proposed," said Mr Campbell, "that the steamer will make three and one half trips per month The new schedule will go into effect on the 20th of this month at which time the Idaho will reach Portland She is now on her way from Alaska and will touch at Victoria on the [illegible]th

"This line will be a feeder to the city of Portland or for that matter for all points that are tributary to Portland because the company can now make through rates at satisfactory figures to all points on the Sound and coast along which the line runs Our vessel will touch at Neah bay, Port Dungeness Port Angeles points situated between Cape Flattery and Port Townsend, with which we now have no connection The new system will bring within the reach of Portland a large territory of trade which the merchants here have been unable to touch before There are various reasons for the establishing of this line and the success of it depends upon the liberality with which the public patronize it In fact it will be a great assistance to this city and it will not cost Portland a dollar

"The service will be opened with the one steamer, but if the venture proves as profitable as the company anticipates other steamers will soon be added to the line We will be able to carry the products of the country from points on our line east of Portland which we could not transport on through rates before There will be no point on the Sound that we cannot reach independent of anyone else, when our steamer is started up. There is another fact that is of great importance to this place by our new service we can receive freight at Portland for Alaska points, and transfer it to the steamer that has its terminus on the Sound. Thus we have established a means whereby the city of Portland is brought into direct connection with points in Washington territory, British Columbia and Alaska which have been practically out of her way heretofore.

GODLY CAPTAINS WERE SCARCE.

That Is What Chaplain Gilpin, of the Seamen's Friend Society, Says

The adjourned annual meeting of the Portland Seamen's Friend Society was held in Ladd & Tilton's bank yesterday President Quackenbush presiding The reports of the officers and agents were read and when the meeting adjourned, the new board of directors met and re-elected Mr Quackenbush president Dr George H Chance, vice-president, James Laidlaw secretary and treasurer executive committee James Steel W S Sibson and A. W Stowell property committee Edward Quackenbush Dr Chance Allen Noyes J K Gill and W S. Sibson

Chaplain Richard Gilpin, in his report, recites that during the year he had to contend singly and alone with much opposition He said the bethel services were not so well attended as usual, because many sailors were taken off the vessels at Astoria and also because many of the vessels loaded on the East Side The captains fearing their men would be spirited away refused to give them [illegible]. During the year he made 375 visits to ships preached 130 times and visited the hospitals fifty two times He set forth that there is need of a comfortable presentable bethel Here is a concluding passage in the report "And yet, after all I must say I never met so few Godly captains in one year in all my sailor experience extending as it does over twenty five years The new state law for the protection of our sailors to which several of our directors gave their labor and influence together with the new law on pilotage and towage have so far as I have heard, given the most unqualified satisfaction."

City Missionary W S Fletcher made a report of his work in the distribution of reading matter on the vessels.

Treasurer Laidlaw's report showed that the balance on hand April 1 1888 was $22 85 receipts during the year $2141 83 total, $2164 68 expenditures $1780 02 balance on hand $384 66

The resignation of Wm Wadhams as director was accepted, and A W Stowell was elected to fill the vacancy

MRS JENNESS MILLER

Mrs Jenness Miller, the celebrated reformer of female dress appears at the New Park next Monday evening It is reported that she has been turning crowds away at Los Angeles where she is now lecturing The New York Graphic of a recent date says

Mrs. Jenness Miller doesn't look one bit like one's stereotyped conception of a woman with a mission or fad. She is gentle handsome and gracious, a most womanly woman With journalistic logic and assurance the observer asked why she did not prove the faith that was in her by wearing the reformed dress With a quiet smile she rebuked his ignorance by telling him that she did practice what she preached and was at that moment clad according to her own designs of good sense and fitness Her dress fell in pretty curves and folds, and the costume was certainly artistic in its outlines She demonstrated its flexibility and ease by indulging in various calisthenics—raising the hands above the head, bending forward and touching the toes with the fingers and showing a suppleness generally that would dislocate either an ordinary tight dress or the anatomy within it If she illustrates her lectures in the same fashion and with so little indication of consequent fatigue, she can hardly fail to make an abiding impression on the female mind of Uncle Sam's broad dyspeptic and tight lacing dominion

GATHERED AT MAJOR JONES' OFFICE

The Corvallis Revetment To Be Finished With Stone—The Columbia To Be Surveyed.

Major W A Jones of the United States engineer corps returned yesterday from Corvallis where he spent over a week supervising the work on the revetment He returned last evening Conversing with a reporter he said the river is so low that the snag boat Willamette is unable to carry stone from the quarry at the mouth of the Luckiamute to Corvallis a distance of twenty [illegible] miles The Willamette will at once begin to make a channel to facilitate its passage In the meantime stone will be hauled in wagons from the neighborhood to the revetment Major Jones says the $15 000 appropriation will finish the work in good shape with stone instead of brush on which he based his estimate

Major Jones is drawing plans for two dump scows to be used in connection with the city dredge which he will operate when it is ready for work The plans will be sent to the engineer department at Washington before anything can be done

Major Jones has received instructions to survey the upper Columbia above Priest Rapids for which an appropriation of $3000 was made. He will also draw plans and make estimates for improving the river above the rapids.

THE REPORT FOR APRIL

Of Secretary C W Beers of the Young Men's Christian Association,

Some of the Needs of the Field—Development of Work Required—Necessity of Increased Membership—Plans—Etc

Secretary C W Beers of the Young Men's Christian Association has submitted the following report to the board of directors for the month of April

PORTLAND April 8.

It seems fitting at this first regular meeting of the board of directors for the ensuing year that a somewhat extensive report covering the plans for the year should be presented to you for consideration especially is this true in the face of the fact that it has been only six months or a little over since the coming of the present general secretary to take the management of the work which period has sufficed to but imperfectly survey the needs of the field and to also bring to light the workers necessary to the carrying out of the plans that might be agreed upon

It has become evident to your secretary that there is a pressing necessity for the immediate development of work along the line of direct efforts for reaching the young men of this city This demands the building up of the young men's gospel meeting, a work already launched and growing a working up of the monthly members meeting, until it shall indeed be a meeting of the members and not a gathering of [illegible] of them the organization of a workers' training class the efficient construction of a vigorous ladies auxiliary the reorganization of the special work for boys

This covers ground that would exhaust the entire strength of a man for twelve months to accomplish but in addition thereto is the demand for the reorganization of the general educational department the employment department and the boarding house department In addition to this comes the pressure for the careful inauguration of the large railroad department now under way, and the much larger work of opening a successful building canvass. This latter demand seems to come from a general belief that the time is ripe for undertaking and that the present is the most propitious of all times

Your secretary has not pressed the subject because he has labored under the pressure sufficiently heavy to demand all his strength but it has been impressed upon him the fact that many of the best men interested are thinking it is time to lay out some plan for work looking to this end.

There also exists in this city a large field for active work strictly in the line of association effort, among that large class of young men who live in hotels and [illegible] could be reached by a system of hotel visitation It is essential that the location of our rooms should be more generally posted in the depots and on the steamer landings where passengers disembark thus on their first visit here to the end of making them more easily acquainted with our facilities for their comfort The committee work has fallen into chaos and its reorganization is the first important work that must receive attention

It is a large task to personally visit sixty or more men talk over the needs of the association, and get them sufficiently enthused to undertake a definite part of the work and yet, gentlemen this very thing must be done

I do not undertake to say that in the short time I have been here I have familiarized myself with all the work needing to be done, but it is a view of the work that has become evident that has been opened up to you It must strike you at once that all these lines cannot be pushed with equal vigor and it is no easy matter to decide which shall receive the first attention for it depends on a most careful survey of the entire field with all its pressing wants and its dependencies as to what shall be the first care of the association

In this matter careful discrimination must be had The membership of the association is not more than half what it should be under the present state of the institution Steps must be taken to bring it to pass that the young men of Portland shall be brought into the work One of the most potent factors in this problem will be a competent gymnasium instructor, provisions for which should be made at once

The work of the past month has been the organization of committees in which work the president has freely called on the time of the secretary

We have commenced a gospel meeting for men on Wednesday evening with most encouraging results and I wish to say this meeting has been done by a committee in the true committee manner is the product of committee work, and it is the best example of committee work that has been undertaken since my coming to this field It is a most encouraging beginning, and we hope it is only the 'beginning' of a large committee work

The formation of a Ladies Auxiliary has taken a great amount of care and promises success in the immediate future

A list of lectures has been arranged for, the dates of which will be reported here to-day by the mover of the undertaking

A large number of members have already been interviewed and pledges secured for active work on association lines and not a few are at work in committees but the greater part of the work yet remains to be perfected. It is a tedious work to select the right men, secure their co-operation, and get them enlisted to that point where they can safely be left to their sense of duty It takes but little to disaffect workers in this work, somehow and requires the constant attention of the secretary that the very work laid on a committeeman is not neglected at the critical moment Hence the labor [illegible] the burden of securing the right man for the work

This gentlemen is [illegible] of the work that this association must be pushed forward It requires the most hearty [illegible] of all connected with the association employes the hearty co-operation of all members of the board and a large amount of self denial on the part of every one having talent that can be of use in the work to carry forward this plan to success. Respectfully submitted

Why is Pearline so largely imitated?

Why do these imitators invariably select names ending in —INE? Why are they compelled to peddle their goods from house to house—use deception, falsehood, offer prizes claim that their powders are as good as Pearline, etc, etc? This is why PEARLINE is the best—never fails—never varies—has no equal—and is as harmless as the purest imported castile soap Sold everywhere. Millions now use it
